Farm, Forest and Sea Products Covered By New Dominion Bill

Parliament Asked to Set Up Marketing Board to Co-operate With Provincial Boards; Exports to Be Controlled By License System

Regulation Of Imports Planned

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 26.—Sweeping powers to regulate trade in Canadian natural products are contained in Legislation brought down in the House of Commons to-day by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. The measure will be known as the National Products Marketing Act of 1934.

The bill is regarded by those who have studied it as a most far-reaching measure. It is doubtful, it is intended, if any other country in the world has provided legislation with such great possibilities for the marketing of their products. Salient provisions of the bill are: Creation of a body to be known as a Dominion Marketing Board, with powers to form local boards and to operate, with marketing boards created by the provinces. Authority to provide by order-in-council for the regulated marketing of any natural product. Control by license of the export of any regulated product. Control of the interprovincial marketing of regulated products. IMPORTS TO BE REGULATED Regulation of the importation of any commodity likely to compete with a regulated product in Canada. Powers to enable organized producers to control the marketing of their products. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

B.C. HEADING RISE IN TRADE VOLUME

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 26.—An increase of $9,000,000 or 14.2 per cent was shown in bank debits, or the amount of money passing through the banks, in February, when the amount was $63,000,000 as against $54,000,000 in the corresponding month of last year, according to a report just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Substantial increases were registered in each of the five economic areas. The greatest percentage gain was shown in British Columbia with $3,050,404, against $1,033,149 in January of last year, an advance of 29.5 per cent.

COUNTY POLLING HELD IN ENGLAND

Canadian Press
London, March 26.—Further county council election results to-day showed the swing to Labor majority in twenty-seven years in the London County Council was echoed here and there throughout the country, particularly in the area around Greater London. Three Labor candidates on the new housing estate at St. Heller polled 2,799 out of a total vote of 3,829. Lady Evelyn Balfour, Conservative, and a local coal dealer running for Labor tied in the election at Hangerbury, Somerset, and drew lots, her husband securing the seat. Two retiring candidates at Chertsey, Conservatives, reportedly decided not to use postal election literature nor to put up with supporters with transportation, because their opponent, a bus conductor, had not used these facilities in two previous attempts. But, the bus conductor was again unsuccessful.

DEATH CALLS J. T. TAYLOR

Well-known Baker Had Resided in Victoria Forty-three Years

John Terrace Taylor, a resident of Victoria for the last forty-three years, and a partner in one of the city's leading bakeries, died this morning. News of Mr. Taylor's death was received with regret by a wide circle of friends with whom he had come in contact in his quiet unassuming manner. Mr. Taylor was born sixty-nine years ago in Dysart, Fife, Scotland. As a young man of twenty-six years, he came to Victoria in 1891 and became associated with M. R. Smith's Biscuit Factory in James Bay. He remained with this firm for four years, during which period he met W. J. Rennie. In 1895 the two men started the partnership which was terminated to-day with Mr. Taylor's death. Their first store and bakery was on Chambers Street. The business was developed gradually until the steady increase warranted the construction of new premises, which were erected on the present site at the corner of Gladstone Avenue and Fernwood Road.

Mr. Taylor was a well-known member of the First United Church congregation and belonged to the United States Golf Club. He was also an active sportsman, being the sporting activities of the city by sponsoring a number of teams in various lines of athletics. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First United Church, with interment at Royal Oak Cemetery. One sister, Isabelle, and three brothers, Andrew, David, and James, all residing near Dysart, are the surviving family relatives. Mr. Taylor was a bachelor.

BRITISH SELLING NICKEL TO RUSSIA

London, March 26.—The Sunday Express said the Soviet trading organization in London had bought almost $1,000,000 worth of pure nickel, the biggest metal deal ever made with British firms, consisting of more than 4,000 tons of the metal at a price between $200 and $225 a ton. The newspaper said an additional contract had been completed whereby the Soviet will take 500 tons of nickel sulphate from British concerns.

VICKERS SALES SHOW INCREASE

Associated Press
London, March 26.—A satisfactory increase in orders for land armaments was placed with Vickers Limited during the year, General Sir Herbert Lawrence, chairman of the company, reported to-day. Speaking at the annual meeting, he said the demand for light tanks and the sales of anti-aircraft equipment had aided in the business increase. He declared, however, stories of inflated profits by private armament firms so far as Vickers was concerned existed only in the imagination of ill-informed critics. Sir Herbert stated: "I would emphasize that no company in the Vickers group is a member of any international armament ring."

Ottawa Conference To Set Financial Aid For Provinces

Premier Pattullo Wires For More Information Before Deciding on Invitation From Premier Bennett to Go to Capital on April 5

What measure of financial assistance will be required during the next fiscal year by the four western provinces will be discussed at a conference between Premier Bennett and the premiers of the western provinces, in Ottawa, opening April 5. It was learned in Victoria to-day. Premier Pattullo has been invited to the conference but had little information regarding it this morning. He sent a wire to Premier Bennett asking for further particulars. "British Columbia's position," Premier Pattullo commented this morning, "is not comparable to that of the prairie provinces and we desire to secure some idea of what Ottawa has in mind."

Information contained in an Ottawa dispatch says the discussions will be for the purpose of putting the business of federal assistance to the provinces on an orderly basis. Invitations to the western premiers were dispatched by wire on Saturday, following a long session of the cabinet at Ottawa. The Dominion-Provincial conference held last January it was agreed financial assistance to the provinces would be continued, and this decision had the approval of the eastern premiers, whose demands upon the treasury are light or non-existent, up to the present, Ottawa dispatches state.

Just what proposals will be laid before the provincial premiers is not known, but it is believed the Dominion Government will ask that, if it is to continue advances or guarantees, some settled system of budgeting and paring of expenditures be developed so this form of co-operation may be applied with the greatest possible advantage.

Of 10,436,586 electors registered, 10,041,997 voted, a percentage of 96.25. Favorable votes totaled 10,024,513, and 1,219 were disqualified. The percentage of favorable votes of the total number cast was 99.8. The candidates were headed by Premier Mussolini himself. There was no opposition list, but each voter had the right to accept or reject official candidates.

W. Jacobson of Toronto. Ely Culbertson's National Bridge Association announced that these four had the best Canadian scores in the world bridge Olympic held February 1.

More than 150,000 players competed in 1,167 simultaneous games in forty-three countries. Sixteen prearranged hands were used in a competition against pairs decided by leading experts. Two society women of Winston-Salem, N.C.—Mrs. Gene Hill and Mrs. George Whitaker—won the world title, their scores being the best of the East-West players. The world North-South championship went to Dr. Eugen Heib and Robert Darnas of Budapest, Hungary. British Columbia provincial champions are: North-South—C. Tipping and Miss B. Leung, Seattle; East-West—Mrs. J. R. Dalton and Mrs. George Stocker, Port Alberni.

U.S. DOLLAR IN LONDON

London, March 26.—(Associated Press)—The United States dollar gained 1/4 cent to the pound sterling to-day and closed at $5.09 1/4. Gold offerings were smaller with sales of $150,000 ($63,925.50) worth at an advance of two pence to 136 shillings five pence (34.74).

FEDERAL SALARY STATEMENT SOON

Ottawa, March 26.—While the ten-day Easter holiday, starting Wednesday, will give the majority of the members of both houses a chance to spend a short time at their homes, the cabinet members will not be so fortunate. Cabinet meetings will be in full swing during most of the recess. Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, is expected to-day or to-morrow to announce the government's decision with respect to the 10 per cent deduction from the salaries of civil servants. The general belief is that for the year, starting April 1, the lower paid civil servants will have their salaries restored to the level existing at the time the cut was put into effect two years ago. Just where the dividing line will be is not known, but it is believed those getting salaries in excess of $1,500, or possibly $2,000, will continue to suffer the 10 per cent reduction for another year.

BANKERS STATE PEACE NEEDED

Toronto, March 26.—The Bank of Nova Scotia in its monthly news letter says that "granted a continuance of peace, it is not unreasonable to hope... an equilibrium of trade and finance may be restored." The letter, however, insists "the condition is absolute; peace is the first need. If war were again to be let loose on the world the prospect for the future of our civilization would be dark indeed."

R. F. TOLMIE'S CAREER ENDS

Former Deputy Minister of Mines and Brother of Ex-Premier Dies To-day

Noderick F. Tolmie, seventy-four, elder brother of Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, retired deputy Minister of Mines for British Columbia and for years the dean of the provincial civil service, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Tolmie had been seriously ill for the last two weeks, suffering the effects of a general physical breakdown after a long and strenuous life. He leaves a wife, a former Miss Edwards, and one son, John R. Tolmie, electrical engineer, both of whom are in Seattle.

The record for length of service in an important office in the provincial government was held by Mr. Tolmie. He was in service for more than thirty-nine years. He retired on pension on January 1, 1925, from the office of deputy Minister of Mines, which he had held for twenty-two years. Robert Dunn Jr., deputy Minister of Mines, who succeeded Mr. Tolmie on his retirement at that date, today paid a tribute to the late Mr. Tolmie as a predecessor in the building up of the mines department and through it the mining industry of British Columbia.

"Bob" Tolmie had a well-balanced grasp of mining problems, was profoundly interested in the mines department in all its phases and played an important role in guiding our development," Mr. Dunn said. "He was most optimistic in his opinions regarding the future of the industry." (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

Storm Wrecks Many New Orleans Homes

Dwellings Demolished Or Damaged Total 100; Twelve Persons Known to Be Seriously Injured; Many Others Slightly Hurt

Associated Press
New Orleans, March 26.—A wind of tornado force, driving a cloudburst of rain before it, today dipped into four sections of lower New Orleans, demolishing or damaging approximately 100 homes and seriously injuring at least twelve persons. Scores of others were less seriously hurt, but a quick and accurate check was impossible, many seeking first aid and shelter while slashing rain continued. Hours after the storm had struck, dozens of homeless persons continued to wander panic-stricken through razed areas, looking for members of their families.

GUARD AGAINST LOOTING

Half of the ambulances in the city and hundreds of police stood by in the ravaged sections, taking injured to hospitals and maintaining a strict guard against possible looting of the wrecked homes. Darkness hung over the city hours after the storm had struck around 8 a.m., and a trip through the littered streets found many standing on their rooftops, holding "holy candles" in their hands and uttering prayers or thanksgiving for their escape with their lives. Live wires and felled poles delayed rescue work.

HOUSE ON TRUCK

The wind picked up a house from its foundation and set it on top of a truck parked in the street. Other houses were blown to bits, while others were turned over or partly swept away. Dr. I. M. Cline, local weather official, said the wind was a thunder squall of a type capable of causing violent damage over a small surface.

Amendments To the SPA

Amendments to the Special Powers Act to be introduced by Premier Pattullo are as follows:

NEW SECTION

"For more certainty it is declared that the powers by this act delegated shall not include those conferred on the Legislature by section 92 of the British North America Act in paragraphs one, two, four, six, nine, eleven, twelve and fourteen thereof. And the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council shall have no power hereunder to do any act or to make or promulgate any ordinance which may be contrary to the provisions of or over-ride the terms of this act or the Constitution Act."

CHANGING FORMER SECTION

"This act shall remain in force only until the beginning of the next session of the Legislature, but the ordinances made and promulgated hereunder shall remain in force until the prorogation of that session, unless sooner repealed by the Legislature; and no act or thing done nor any right, privilege, obligation, liability or penalty acquired, accrued, accruing incurred or established under any ordinance shall be affected by the fact that the ordinance has by reason of this petition ceased to have effect."

The other change deletes the words "any laws of the province" from the penalty provisions, thus confining this clause to ordinances promulgated under the S.P.A.

M.P. ENDED LIFE DECLARES JURY

Hemsworth, Yorkshire, Eng., March 26 (Canadian Press).—A verdict of suicide while of temporarily unsound mind was returned to-day at the inquest on the death of Gabriel Price, Labor member of the House of Commons, found drowned near here. Mrs. Price, wife of the former colliery worker, who was elected to Parliament in 1921, testified she was walking with him when he suddenly ran and plunged into the river. He had been nervous lately, she added.

M.P.'S SOON WILL HAVE HOLIDAY

Ottawa, March 26.—When the members of Parliament assembled to-day they had a short week ahead of them. They will adjourn Wednesday evening for a ten-day Easter holiday. The main committees of the Commons, banking and commerce, mass buying and price spreads, will meet to-morrow. This week the House will be asked to pass the Unemployment and Farm Relief Act, 1934, which authorizes the government to continue the expenditure of money for the assistance of those in need, in co-operation with the provinces and municipalities.

"I don't think there is a lawyer anywhere outside of those who are advising the government who would agree the language used is safe," he said. "When you say to full extent of the powers of the Legislature, it raises the question as to whether you are not dealing 'in toto' the powers of the House. It makes the government superior to Parliament." "I know, and I say now, there are extraordinary and unknown situations to meet, Mr. McGee continued. "I want the government to take the powers that are necessary, but I want to safeguard the constitution. We want something that will not throw us into confusion and will keep some sort of stability." BRITISH STUDYING NEW ARMS COURSE which may prove to be the deciding instalment. Great Britain views the subject with an open mind, but it was said, expects further communications from France before taking a definite stand. ATTITUDE OF U.S. Furthermore, it was stated, the attitude the United States may take on the question of sanctions or penalties against treaty violators is regarded as highly important. It was stated that, before committing itself, Great Britain would want to know whether the United States would interfere with the application of such sanctions. It is still felt here that public condemnation of a violator of disarmament pacts, or even the recall of ambassadors, should be a sufficiently severe punishment to bring a violator into line.

Cabinet Discusses Possible Measures to Be Used Against Nations Breaking Treaties

Canadian Press and Associated Press

C.C. JULIAN'S CAREER ENDS

Man Whose Oil Schemes Collapsed in U.S. Poisons Himself in Shanghai

By Morris J. Harris, Associated Press
Foreign Staff

Shanghai, March 26.—The death of C. C. Julian, the Manitoba farmer boy who made millions in oil and died in poverty, was coldly and officially recorded in a Shanghai public mortuary today.

C. E. Vandever, a United States citizen, who knew Julian in California twenty-five years ago, identified the body. British officials, who had charge of the case inasmuch as Julian was a Canadian, accepted Vandever's identification.

It was said there would be no official opinion as to the cause of death until a formal inquest Thursday. Physicians who worked over Julian after he had been found in an Astor Hotel room, after the latter had been his secretary and dinner companion, said without doubt Julian had taken his own life.

However, some of Julian's close associates here insisted they believed he had killed himself unintentionally.

SECRETARY RECOVERS

Miss Levy was believed recovering today from a poison of the polonium physicians said killed Julian.

In a hospital, she regained consciousness long enough to tell nurses: "Julian said he would do it. I did not believe him, but he did it."

Miss Levy found Julian in his hotel room, dying, when she became alarmed at his prolonged absence after excusing himself from their table.

Miss Levy accompanied Julian to the hospital and remained outside his room until he died. The body was turned to the hotel. There she was found in a critical condition from the effects of a poison of the polonium which killed Julian.

FUNERAL DISCUSSION
The undertaker said a group of unnamed Americans had abandoned their plans to bury the remains on the request of a Canadian, whose name was withheld, after the latter had refused for the privilege of paying the funeral expenses.

The result of an autopsy performed late Sunday had been announced officially, but doctors revealed an examination showed a heavy dose of a powerful poison.

Miss Levy's brother said Julian owed at least $25,000 to Chinese. Major-General Roy Hoffman of Oklahoma City, it was revealed yesterday evening, visited Julian in Shanghai on March 20, and was reported to have urged the promoter to return to Oklahoma and face trial.

A Russian woman, who gave her name as Mary Kontrovich, created a scene in the hospital, when she learned of Julian's death, and demanded admission to the room where garding the future of British Columbia's mining industry and the increase of its economic importance. He was very strong for the prospect, particularly the old miner prospect, having been associated with him in pioneer days in the Cariboo. To the end of his official career, Mr. Tolmie was an earnest advocate of everything that was in the interests of the men who explore our hills for mineral wealth, facing danger and privation.

"In his capacity as deputy minister, Mr. Tolmie's gift for organization, his clear and abundant knowledge of the needs and problems of mining men, employers and employees alike, made his services invaluable. It was largely due to his foresight and efforts that the wide-reaching and efficient organization of the mines department was developed."

STEADY RISE

During his career in the provincial service Mr. Tolmie served under sixteen different premiers and administrators. He started his civil service career as a clerk in the land registry office, on a salary of $40 a month. From that office, as a result of his diligent application and unusual ability as an organizer, he rose steadily until he attained the office of deputy minister, the highest post possible of attainment without seeking election to Parliament.

Mr. Tolmie was born in 1858, the year of the big placer gold strike in the Cariboo. His birthplace was Fort Simpson, a post of the Hudson's Bay Company, in Pierce County, near called Washington Territory and now known as the town of Dupont, State of Washington. His father, the late Dr. William Tolmie, was chief factor of the Hudson's Bay Company, near called Washington Territory and now known as the town of Dupont, State of Washington.

MASS CONTROL FOR FARMING

Great Acreage Reduction Scheme in United States to Include All Branches

Washington, March 26.—Eventful withdrawal of 40,000,000 acres of land from production through corn, wheat, cotton and tobacco reduction programmes had been indicated today by Chester C. Davis, agricultural adjustment administrator, in a report to Secretary Henry Wallace of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The report, outlining the government's progress in regulating farm production from May, 1933, to February, 1934, suggested abandonment of the scheme whereby separate contracts are employed for each commodity, and the substitution of control by all regulated farm products through a single association in each county.

Total farm income from crops in 1933, Davis said, "including rental and benefit payments, is estimated to have been $3,271,000,000, compared with $2,113,000,000 in 1932, an increase of nearly 55 per cent."

"Part of this recovery was undoubtedly due to the adjustment programme getting under way," Davis said. "The agricultural adjustment administration," Mr. Davis added, "has no thought of preparing for a permanent scarcity. The American population is still increasing, though at a declining rate. Agriculture's goal is the economical production of simple raw materials to supply the nation's needs and to meet the demand for such products as can be sold abroad at remunerative prices, while at the same time avoiding surpluses that destroy the purchasing power of farm commodities and wreck farmers' standard of living."

NEW U.S. Industrial Conference Scheme

THREE-MAN BOARD
Under the agreement the NRA planned to complete before nightfall a three-man board, with one neutral member and one from each of the two industries, to settle all questions of employee representation, including discharges and claims of discrimination.

The name of Richard E. Byrd of Pontiac, Michigan, was handed to the President by spokesmen of the automobile workers as their nominee to represent labor on the three-man mediation board. The motor car executives had several men in mind. Johnson also had several in mind.

In laying off men, when the high-production period ends, the companies are pledged to consider "human relationships" first—to protect the jobs of married men with families above all and then take seniority, individual skill and efficient service as guides.

SATISFACTION VOICED
This agreement was accepted by both sides with expressions of satisfaction. Said Alvan Macaulay, president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce: "We are very grateful to the President and to General Johnson that they have been able to find a settlement in accord with the principles in which we believe."

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, made this statement: "This means that while the workers gained the principal point for which they were fighting—strict observance of Section 7-A of the Recovery Act, the automobile manufacturers have simply given assurance of their willingness to obey the law. There is no basis for a claim that either has gained a victory over the other."

MANY INTERESTED
The settlement brought and end to a drawn-out controversy which had threatened a strike involving 250,000 men in the motor plants and menacing the administration's recovery programme.

In a statement, Mr. Roosevelt said the agreement stipulated that employees should have the right to choose their own representatives to bargain with employers and there should be no discrimination "in any way against any employee on the ground of his union labor affiliations."

RAILROAD WAGES
Another twisted knot, however, in the railroad wage question, now in the hands of Joseph B. Eastman, an arbitrator. He planned to talk to the employee spokesmen today in an effort to alter their flat refusal to agree to the President's plan for a six-months' continuance of the present pay level.

NEW YORK STRIKE
New York's taxi strike was still in progress today. Striking drivers, rejecting Mayor La Guardia's peace programme, rioted again yesterday evening in the white lights district, smashing cabs with stones and lead pipes. "Let's give it to the cops," rioters cried when police tried to break their ranks.

WIDE FIELD
Some of the commodities which are expected to be regulated under the act are livestock, pork products, dairy products, grains, and perhaps certain species of fish, and some of the branches of the lumbering industry. Until the bill has become law and its widespread provisions have been studied, it is impossible any particular section of producers will make application to come under the legislation.

FIXING OF PRICES
"A committee may after investigation as herebefore provided determine, in connection with any operation occurring in the course of marketing or conversion of the regulated product, what spread is detrimental to or against the interest of the public in that it is excessive or results in undue enhancement of prices or otherwise results in undue injury to trade or commerce in the regulated product."

MASS CONTROL FOR FARMING
Great Acreage Reduction Scheme in United States to Include All Branches

Washington, March 26.—Eventful withdrawal of 40,000,000 acres of land from production through corn, wheat, cotton and tobacco reduction programmes had been indicated today by Chester C. Davis, agricultural adjustment administrator, in a report to Secretary Henry Wallace of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The report, outlining the government's progress in regulating farm production from May, 1933, to February, 1934, suggested abandonment of the scheme whereby separate contracts are employed for each commodity, and the substitution of control by all regulated farm products through a single association in each county.

Total farm income from crops in 1933, Davis said, "including rental and benefit payments, is estimated to have been $3,271,000,000, compared with $2,113,000,000 in 1932, an increase of nearly 55 per cent."

"Part of this recovery was undoubtedly due to the adjustment programme getting under way," Davis said. "The agricultural adjustment administration," Mr. Davis added, "has no thought of preparing for a permanent scarcity. The American population is still increasing, though at a declining rate. Agriculture's goal is the economical production of simple raw materials to supply the nation's needs and to meet the demand for such products as can be sold abroad at remunerative prices, while at the same time avoiding surpluses that destroy the purchasing power of farm commodities and wreck farmers' standard of living."

THREE-MAN BOARD
Under the agreement the NRA planned to complete before nightfall a three-man board, with one neutral member and one from each of the two industries, to settle all questions of employee representation, including discharges and claims of discrimination.

The name of Richard E. Byrd of Pontiac, Michigan, was handed to the President by spokesmen of the automobile workers as their nominee to represent labor on the three-man mediation board. The motor car executives had several men in mind. Johnson also had several in mind.

In laying off men, when the high-production period ends, the companies are pledged to consider "human relationships" first—to protect the jobs of married men with families above all and then take seniority, individual skill and efficient service as guides.

Wealth, in your later years, means leisure to enjoy life in your own way. Freedom to indulge in those things you have always dreamed about.

Here is an idea that can make you truly wealthy. It gives you a monthly income of $100, $200, or whatever sum you decide on, as long as you live. This is guaranteed by one of Canada's largest financial institutions with assets of over $134,000,000. It is a GREAT-WEST LIFE Retirement Annuity.

This plan offers you more income for less money than any other plan of saving. There is a provision which returns to your beneficiary the cash value of the deposits made, if death should occur before your monthly income starts. Men can include their wives in this plan, to provide an income as long as either of them lives.

Another important feature of The GREAT-WEST LIFE Annuity is that you share in the profits of the Company.

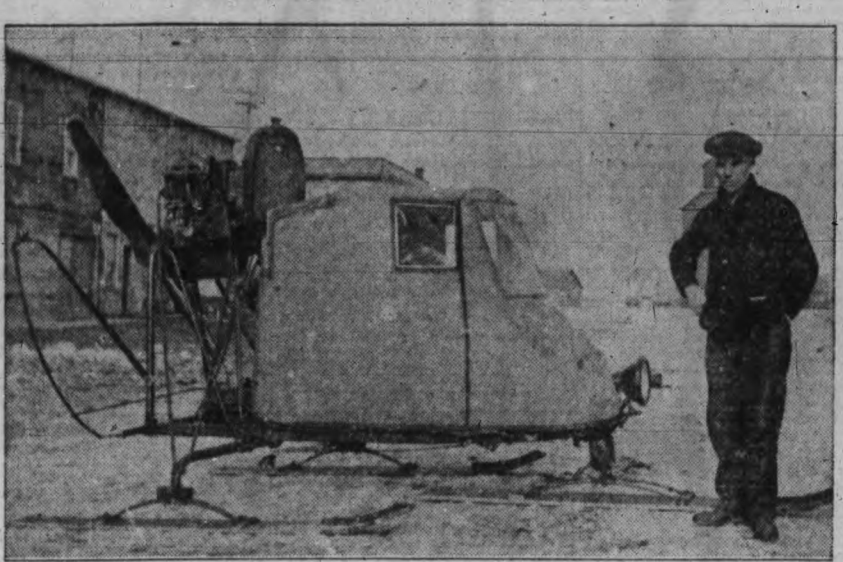

Decide now to lay aside a small amount out of your present earnings to provide a guaranteed income later. Learn how easily this can be accomplished. Write to our nearest Branch Office or to Head Office, Winnipeg.

SNOWMOBILE USED ON PRAIRIES

As spring comes to the prairies a number of new vehicles made to travel on snow are being stowed away until next fall. One of the "Leaping Lenas" is pictured above. Built by F. Schick, Lemberg, Saskatchewan, the machine has an average speed of thirty miles an hour, a limit speed of sixty miles an hour, and can be slowed down to a mere crawl of two miles an hour. It weighs 800 pounds, has no trouble with blowouts and is called a snow-mobile.

PHILIPPINE BILL SIGNED

U.S. President's Act Completes Legislation on Proposed Independence

Washington, March 26.—President Roosevelt on Saturday signed the bill providing for Philippine independence.

He affixed his signature in the presence of congressional authors of the legislation and representatives of the island government.

The bill would allow Philippine independence in ten to twelve years, subject to the approval of the Philippine Legislature and the Philippine.

The Philippine Legislature must accept the independent terms by October 1, or the legislation will die.

While these older minds told the boys and girls to go back to the days of their pioneer forefathers, he maintained they would not realize that humanity was on the march. They could not see how the forces of radio, motion pictures and press had released human minds from the corral of orthodoxy and started the masses into a mental trek that was leading to a new world.

Mr. Cromie pointed out that these inventions had made almost obsolete in India, Africa and Russia in Moscow now know what was going on in Montreal and Washington from the screen.

Corrupt and stupid government had existed because of the secrecy of the castle in which the skulduggery and conniving took place, he said. The eye of radio was on that castle and reflected for all who would listen what was going on there.

Because it was youth-conscious and was organizing Canadian youth in Montreal and across Canada to think and act in modern lines, Mr. Cromie said the Young Men's Canadian Club was performing a great work.

ORGANIZING CLUBS

"The Young Men's Canadian Club of Montreal" is the "most aggressive group in Canada, because they are youth-conscious and are organizing Canadian youth in Montreal and across Canada to think and act in modern lines," said Mr. Cromie. "Similar youth groups should be formed in every city in Canada, not for political purposes, or under political parties, but simply to drive home to Canadians as a whole the urgency of recognizing that humanity is on the march and needs modern leadership and youth direction."

"Youth knows that for four years Canadian girls can find no husbands, but simply to drive home to Canadians as a whole the urgency of recognizing that humanity is on the march and needs modern leadership and youth direction."

"Reactionaries who have waxed fat and luxurious and powerful under our old regime insist that humanity's march turn around and head back to the days of our pioneers with no radios or motors."

"Well, there is no turning back for Canada. We must go on. And what a truly great destiny we Canadians have to move on to."

Speaker Urges Ending Of War Profiteering

Prof. T. W. L. MacDermot, in Address From Ottawa, Says Private Arms Trade Should Be Eliminated

Ottawa, March 26.—War can only be removed by "killing the operations of the interests that profit out of war, and out of conditions that lead to war," said Professor T. W. L. MacDermot, speaking yesterday under the auspices of the League of Nations Society and the Association of Canadian Clubs.

"These include the calculated barbarism of the private arms trade, and the universal unrest and suppressed passion caused by social discontent," he added. "To put the profit out of business, and to cure the disease of insanity and poverty, are two of the ways Canada can work for peace in the world."

The key to Canada's continued progress was maintenance of peace, he asserted. Canada's "what exports had been cut to a quarter 'mainly by preparation for war in Europe.' The internal economic life of the Dominion 'is nearly paralyzed because we have to use 50 per cent of every dollar of our taxation to pay for the last war.'"

Professor MacDermot said Canada should use any machinery available which made for peace.

FIRE FIGHTERS ARE INJURED

Number Hurt in Montreal; Five Have Narrow Escape From Death

Montreal, March 26.—Two hours after a gay Saturday night crowd had vacated the premises, fire broke out in the Stanley Grill, an uptown cabaret on Stanley Street, leaving in its wake to-day a number of injured firemen and damage estimated by the proprietor at $140,000. The building was almost destroyed and will be rebuilt, the proprietors stated.

Its origin undetermined, the blaze started in the basement of the night club and spread rapidly to the upper stories and the roof of the building which, in addition to the cabaret proper, houses a "stag" tavern. In battling the flames twenty firemen suffered cuts about their hands and faces from flying glass, others were overcome partially by dense smoke, while five others narrowly escaped being hurled to their deaths when they crashed through the burning roof to the cabaret floor thirty feet below.

It was a two-alarm fire. Firemen fought the flames for several hours in attempt to prevent them from spreading to adjoining buildings and just as they thought they had succeeded, the roof of the cabaret building caved in.

Five firemen standing on top fell with the roof and were found by companions lying on the dance floor, wreckage strewn about them. They had to be pulled out on ropes.

When the roof collapsed another group of five fire fighters barely escaped being struck by the tons of debris.

GOVERNOR IS HEARD ON AIR

From Vancouver Lord Bessborough Speaks For Voluntary Employment Plan

Vancouver, March 26.—"Unemployment is a curse that, even if it were lifted here and now, would still make its baleful effects felt for many years to come," the Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, stated in a public address here late yesterday afternoon which was broadcast across Canada.

He was speaking on behalf of the unemployment service plan operating in Vancouver and elsewhere by which efforts are made to provide as great a volume of voluntary employment as possible and he congratulated the workers in Vancouver on what they had accomplished.

"It is sad enough," continued Lord Bessborough, "to see those who have worked honestly and well, and who are denied through no fault of their own, deprived of their livelihood; but it is even sadder and more disheartening to all of us who have faith in the future of this great country to watch the havoc unemployment is playing with the younger generation: to see young men and young women, in the full vigor of their youth, who cannot even begin to find for themselves the sort of work for which they are fitted; to see energy, talent, and even genius denied the chance to bear fruit because the soil is barren; and, worse still, to see despair and bitterness sapping the strength of those who ought never to have felt the burden of either."

"I rejoice in the knowledge that all over Canada, throughout this long and testing winter, voluntary workers from coast to coast have rallied to the cause with a wholeheartedness that can only be called magnificent."

"I hope most earnestly that a work so well begun may go on and prosper, with the full co-operation of all who are in a position to help, and that it may be the seed of a new and better strength and new faith to many who have so nearly lost both."

New Rumor Of Lost Explorer

Col. H. P. Fawcett Said to Be With Indians in Brazil

Sao Paulo, Brazil, March 26.—Since Col. H. P. Fawcett, British explorer, went into the Mato Grosso wilderness in 1925, he has become probably the most famous of modern missing men.

Local Indians told Senor Virgilio Pestana are exact. Col. Fawcett may be alive still, teaching Indians English and playing with half-breed grandchildren in the wild country of the upper Rio Negro, in northern Mato Grosso.

Senor Pestana, a mineralogist and dealer in tropical woods, says he believes the story, told him by two Indians of the Anahuqua tribe, who also related that Fawcett's son married an Indian girl and is the father of two blue-eyed children.

Pestana, in Sao Paulo, after several long trips to northern Mato Grosso, asserted that he himself saw, in two places, trees with large 'carvings' on the trunks, along the Rio Culene, long associated with various Fawcett stories.

More than a dozen authentic and spurious expeditions have sought Fawcett in the last several years, but nothing definite has been uncovered. Many claimed to have found traces of the Englishman and his son.

URGE MONETARY STABILIZATION

Washington, March 26.—World governments had been warned by sixteen internationally crowned industrialists, bankers and economists to-day that further delay in monetary stabilization might lead to a "new wave of currency instability."

These experts, constituting the monetary committee of the International Chamber of Commerce, made this prediction in a resolution calling on all governments to utilize the present "propitious opportunity" to stabilize.

MOULDING OF GLASS FOR BIG TELESCOPE IS SEEN BY THRONG

Scientists and Laymen Witness Pouring of Twenty Tons at Corning, N.Y.; Reflector Will Be 200 Inches in Diameter

By Walter T. Brown, Associated Press Staff Writer

Corning, N.Y., March 26.—Twenty tons of molten glass, to form the world's largest telescope "eye," were poured into a form yesterday before a distinguished audience of scientists and thousands of laymen who flocked to the hospitality of this famous little city of glass makers.

By nightfall the last ladle of brilliantly glowing glass was spread in the brick form which will stand for ten months while the composition hardens. Ten hours were required to transfer the liquid glass from the furnace, where it had been heating since February 15, to the mould housed in a brick igloo.

If, as scientists anticipate, the 200-inch mirror emerges from the annealing tank flawless, it some day will enable man to gaze into unathomed depths of the great void beyond the earth. The astronomical vision, if all steps of the experiment are as successful as those already taken, will be increased thirty times in volume.

Officials of the Corning Glass Works estimated 7,500 persons witnessed the pouring of the cyclopean mirror.

New Governor For South Australia

British Government Appoints Major-Gen. W. Dugan to State Post

London, March 26.—The Dominions office to-day had announced appointment of Major-General Winston Dugan, former aide de camp to the King, to be Governor of South Australia in succession to Brigadier-General Sir A. G. A. Gore-Ruthven, who has served since 1928.

Major-General Winston Dugan, fifty-six, has had a distinguished military career. He served in the South African War, winning the Queen's medal with three clasps and the King's medal with two clasps. From 1915 to 1916 he commanded the 2nd Royal Irish Regiment in France and in the last year of the Great War was assistant inspector-general of training. He was an aide de camp to the King from 1923 to 1926.

Sir Alexander Gore Arkwright Gore-Ruthven, sixty-one, who won the Victoria Cross in the Sudan campaign, was military secretary to the Governor-General of Australia in 1908. He fought in the Great War in France and Gallipoli. In Gallipoli, where he was wounded severely, he was mentioned in dispatches five times, won the Distinguished Service Order and was made a Companion of the Bath and Companion of St. Michael and St. George.

Old Syc Succumbs at Cleveland; Helped Diphtheria Fight at Nome

Cleveland, Ohio, March 26.—To those who have kept green the memory of Balto and his brothers, Old Syc is dead.

It was in 1925 that Balto broke trail in the dash into Nome, Alaska, with a precious load of diphtheria antitoxin to fight an epidemic. Balto, of that same unerring instinct which characterized the dogs in Jack London's memorable stories of the Far North, guided his master, Leonard Seppala, out of a blizzard and into stricken Nome to become famous overnight in a thousand headlines.

Old Syc tugged at the same sled. It was in 1925 that Balto broke trail in the dash into Nome, Alaska, with a precious load of diphtheria antitoxin to fight an epidemic. Balto, of that same unerring instinct which characterized the dogs in Jack London's memorable stories of the Far North, guided his master, Leonard Seppala, out of a blizzard and into stricken Nome to become famous overnight in a thousand headlines.

One by one the huskies died. Only Old Syc remained. And yesterday Syc, too, seventeen years old, none too steady on the feet which trod Alaskan snows, died in Brookside Zoo, bladder stones and complications caused his death.

The monument will be moved from the run the dog formerly occupied at Brookside to a conspicuous spot, and their sled will be placed on display in the administration building.

NANAIMO

Nanaimo, March 26.—Funeral services for the late John Steel were held from the Jenkin's Funeral Chapel Friday afternoon in the presence of many sorrowing friends and relatives. GOOD BUSINESS

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT HAS decided to contribute $50,000 toward the cost of sending a delegation to South Africa in the interests of British Columbia's lumber industry. Another $60,000 will be put up by the loggers and lumbermen—$110,000 in all.

This is an excellent investment and it should, undoubtedly it will, produce satisfactory returns. It will be recalled that the late government similarly helped to finance a delegation to Australia a year or so ago. That obviously was worth while.

While our imports from Australia for the last three years have been about $5,500,000 annually, our exports have increased from approximately the same amount to more than double, the value of our sales for the twelve months ending last January being $10,800,000. A good deal of the gain is accounted for in larger shipments of lumber.

It is essential now more than ever before that strenuous efforts be made in every likely market to stimulate British Columbia's lumber sales. The intensive campaign which has been carried on in Great Britain in recent years has produced results.

If this comparison had not been vigorously prosecuted, Canada would not have been in a position to take advantage of the embargo which Britain put on Russian lumber as a consequence of the incident of the British engineers who were convicted and imprisoned for what the Soviet called sabotage; and it is hardly likely that the British government would have enforced the reduction of this year's contract between the great British importing organization and the Soviet by 100,000 standards, or 200,000,000 feet board measurement, if the Canadian product had not gained in popularity through its more extensive use.

Canada is now able, moreover, to capitalize this advantage under the provisions of the Canada-United Kingdom trade treaty entered into at the Ottawa conference in the summer of 1932.

The important feature about our lumber industry, apart altogether from the fact that it is one of the four major industries, is that greater activity in our forests and sawmills means business for many other industries in the province, more orders for supplies of a very varied character, and, by the same token, it increases the demand for many kinds of labor.

Expenditure of this $110,000 by the government and the loggers and lumbermen in co-operation, of course, is good business because while the United States market is practically closed to our forest products—British Columbia used to dispose of about eighty per cent of them in that market before the tariff was ruined it—new outlets must be found for them elsewhere.

TOO BAD!

THERE CAME FROM VANCOUVER ON Saturday a pretty little story about a young married couple who arrived in that city in the Canadian-Australian liner Anorangi. After they left the ship they discovered they had several hours to wait before their train would leave for the east.

Now that put into their young heads a bright idea and it suggests that they had pretty well saturated themselves with information about Canada's show places—even if they had been a little bit casual in their study of distances. To what better advantage could a few hours of waiting be put, thought the young wife, than "a nice walk to Lake Louise." Imagine her chagrin when a train official dropped the gentle hint that 500 very tortuous but scenically beautiful miles separated Vancouver from that delightful and popular resort!

Being used to great expanses—the square mileage of Australia is 2,974,427, compared with Canada's 3,510,008—perhaps the shock which the trainman administered was not a very great one. No doubt the young couple consoled themselves with the fact that they had got the right page but the wrong verse. However, there it was; they presumably waited for their train and, if they proceeded east, have since viewed from the train window the route over which their fanciful hike would have taken them.

But this slight misunderstanding of Canadian geography is by no means confined to young married couples who come from the Antipodes to the Pacific Coast and conceive the idea that it would be fine to use a few hours' leisure in a walk from Vancouver to Lake Louise. Several letters, some of them from British newspapers, have come to Victoria addressed: "Victoria, B.C., U.S.A." Before us as we write is an envelope which contained news-matter from a great aviation concern in Britain addressed: "The Editor, Victoria Daily Times, Victoria, B.C., Australia." "Believe It or Not."

MAY BE "A WORLD'S WONDER"

WRITING IN THE CONTEMPORARY Review after his return to Great Britain from the United States, Mr. S. K. Ratcliffe, journalist and lecturer well known in the neighboring republic, sums up Mr. Roosevelt's first year and concludes his article with the statement that if the President, next January 30, should be accorded such a birthday anniversary celebration by the American people amid circumstances anyway comparable to those of this year, "Franklin Roosevelt will indeed be a world's wonder."

Mr. Ratcliffe observes at the outset that the Roosevelt policy was a firm conviction that the American people were demanding to be led out of their prolonged defeatist mood; they were not willing to be overwhelmed in economic disaster; they were willing to be led into a great co-operative effort of self-help. Here is the central fact of the situation.

Mr. Roosevelt's position, so far as one can judge,

Mr. Ratcliffe proceeds, is altogether unimpaired. It would be difficult to challenge the statement that he is stronger at the beginning of his second year than he was at the thrilling moment last spring when the American people awoke to the fact that they had elected a Chief Executive who was at once a decisive ruler, a masterly administrator, and a brilliant popular leader. We then read:

"The difficulties and perils of 1933 put him in positions of danger from time to time. There was a dismal interval before the launching of the national recovery programme. There were weeks of acute anxiety towards the end of the year. The currency experiments, the gold-buying policy, the threats of inflation, the lengthening period of misgiving in the business world before the decisions leading to the Gold Bill of January—these and other events and influences appeared, at intervals during the second half-year, to imperil the President's popularity or authority."

"But no danger so far has been serious for him, no storm has gathered head. His management of every problem as it has emerged could hardly have been more skilful. His handling of Congress is no less assured and successful than it was during the first astounding session. The press contains plenty of criticism, and some powerful dailies are not only outspoken, but are already merciless in criticism."

"Mr. Roosevelt can afford to leave them unanswered, while in contrast with his predecessors he shows no sign of irritation under attack. He keeps in reserve his unequalled power of persuasion over the air, having wisely come to the conclusion that a President, while feeling free to talk on ceremonial occasions, should be careful in his use of the radio for statements of policy and appeals for public support."

THE DEMOCRATIC IDEAL

SEVERAL PROMINENT ENGLISHMEN recently united to make a public protest against the rising wave of discontent with democratic institutions. All across Europe—from Germany, from Russia, from Italy, from Austria, and from lesser countries—comes a steadily growing chorus of derision for parliamentary government.

Democracy, it is said, is a worn-out thing, and liberty is an empty word; only by an iron-clad dictatorship can a people hope to meet the problems of the modern world. All this, naturally, is beginning to stir echoes in the British Isles; and these Englishmen, therefore, have called on their countrymen to rally in defence of the democratic ideal and to reaffirm their conviction of the supreme importance of human liberty.

Something very similar might be done profitably on this side of the water. Europe is a long way off, but this attack on the old Anglo-Saxon concept of freedom is a menacing and contagious thing—chiefly, perhaps, because we have grown so used to the blessings of liberty that we take them for granted.

It is not like the actions of our city council or our members of Parliament and Legislatures, we wait our chance to vote against them at the next election—and, meanwhile, express ourselves as bitterly as we choose to anyone who will listen. We read such books as we wish to read, attend whatever church we please, educate our children in the way that seems best to us.

We do not look on these things as privileges. They are part of our daily life. We hardly can conceive of living under circumstances where such things do not exist.

Yet we need to remember constantly that these are the very blessings of democracy which now are under attack. People fought and died that we might have these privileges, and did it so effectively that we no longer look on them as privileges.

We imbibe freedom with the very air that we breathe, but a price was paid for it, and it is our task to defend it everlastingly. Under fascism, under communism, under any kind of dictatorship, we would lose it.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

GREW OWN TOBACCO
 The Toronto Mail and Empire

It never could have been the intention of Parliament to punish citizens who raised tobacco for their own use. Yet two people living near Windsor have been sent to jail because they raised some tobacco for themselves and unwittingly violated a provision of the Excise Tax. The foolish law under which they were convicted should be repealed at once.

THE GENERATIONS MARCH
 The Woodstock Sentinel-Review

Every year there are hundreds of young people in this country becoming daily instead of occasional purchasers of merchandise. They read advertisements they never read before because they were not personally interested. So far as they are concerned, last year's advertising was of no use. The older groups read it, but the procession has moved on. "You cannot turn the millwheel with the water that is past."

TREASURE TROVE
 The Montreal Herald

Navies engaged in repairing the highway between Mexico and Pachuca, site of some of the world's greatest silver mines, unearthed six rusty caskets containing gold and silver coins and plate estimated to be worth nearly $50,000. The coins are from 100 to 150 years old. The ministry of finance, temporary custodian of the hoard, has decided that the federal government shall receive half the money, while the remainder is to be divided equally among the twelve navies who made the discovery and the contractors employing them. Each man will receive $1,000.

BEFORE MICROPHONE
 The Ottawa Journal

A young engineering worker named William Ferrie was chosen to give a talk over the British Broadcasting Commission's system in a series dealing with industrial England. He submitted his manuscript to the B.B.C. officials, as is the custom, and it was returned to him with some alterations.

In due course Mr. Ferrie faced the microphone and as we are told and can well believe—the "utter horror" of official circles made this statement: "What I wanted to tell you has been so cut up and censored by the Broadcasting Commission that it would be a travesty to give what is left. For this reason I have sent the talk I wanted to give to the press instead."

Across the Bay

We find peace at last—away from the Legislature in the brooding shadows of the Johnson Street Bridge—nearby the scrap iron—the steel skeletons and the ancient pear tree.

By H. B. W.

By H. B. W.

PEACE

IF YOU WANT to get away from the stresses and strains of the Eighteenth Legislature, after such a week as we have been enjoying, go and walk on the Johnson Street Bridge at dusk. I can't tell you why, but there is a philosophic calm and unworldliness about the Johnson Street Bridge at dusk which, I think, is the most troubled spirit, even the spirit which is beyond all comfort and salvation after listening to debate on the Special Powers Act.

Yes, another broken spirit and I escaped the other night from the Legislature after a day of frantic argument and strife and walked along the waterfront into another world. Across the harbor men were locked in mortal strife, trying to do something about an economic system which stubbornly resents anything being done about it, and half of them didn't know what they were trying to do either. But here, down beneath the dark, cool shadows of the Johnson Street Bridge, all was peace, quiet and content.

Yes, you can come out of the Legislature, wild-eyed like the rest of them, your mind a frenzy of legislative argument, and walk down the Johnson Street Bridge, and you can find your sanity again. There, in the shadows of this grim, gigantic monster, you can meditate on the vanity of human ambition, and realize how foolish it is for men to distress themselves about the matters which seem so big in our Legislature.

DEPARTED GLORY

FOR LOOK at this grisly creature of steel and concrete, whose many arms are spread like giant spider legs against the sunset, this bridge which, for a whole generation, convulsed the civic life of Victoria; look at it, said my philosophical friend, and observe how it is an issue no longer. Why, that's the first time I've seen it in the newspaper business, were devoted almost entirely to writing reports of civic statements battling to the death about the Johnson Street Bridge. And now no one mentions it at all.

A new generation of Victorians has come of age and started to vote, and the first time they vote, the bridge, which was the Johnson Street Bridge, was a problem or which men were willing to bleed and die, on which political careers were founded and ended. Yes, there it stands against the sunset, a solemn and profound reminder that anything that excites us to-day, any public issue, any private trouble, will be forgotten to-morrow, that nothing matters very much.

But why, said my philosophical friend, is it necessary for one of the two Johnson Street Bridges—for they are twins you know, and not identical—twins either, but two separate beings—why is it necessary, said he, to raise one side of the bridge and not the other; how can a ship pass beneath this magnificent tangle of steel if only one side is up and the other down? What was the idea, said he, of raising that railway side, as it is, raised that night, and leaving the traffic side down?

But also, I could not tell him, and as a Victorian, I was ashamed. Yet how many Victorians could answer this simple question? How many Victorians really know anything about the working of this magnificent and unnatural phenomenon which lies in the very heart of their city? How many Victorians really appreciate at all the dark, overshadowing mysteries, like the Johnson Street Bridge, and the Legislature, which stand at their very doors?

NO MATTER

BUT, SAID my philosophical friend, what does it matter? For up above the dome of the Parliament Buildings, across the harbor, now winked the first stars of the night; and, said my friend, it was quite probable; indeed, it was the opinion of the best scientists, that all those stars twinkling there contained no Parliament Buildings, no Special Powers Act, no Johnson Street Bridge, no life of any sort at all. It was quite probable that this tenth-class little speck of dust called the earth, alone amid the myriad of specks in the universe, contained any life, that all life was just a mere accident with no purpose, which had emerged a little while ago out of the slime and would sink back again shortly without the universe knowing or caring about it.

So, said my philosophical friend, comforting me mightily, there really was no use worrying about the twin bridges of Johnson Street and their annoying habit of going up and down one at a time, instead of together. There really was no use worrying about the Special Powers Act or the Legislature of British Columbia. There really was no use worrying about anything, because nothing was important. So we looked in reverent silence down into the black shadows on the water below the bridge and our spirits were at peace.

IMPORTANT

BUT NOT for long. Said I: "Away, sir, with your speculations and doubts. I can show you something in the universe which matters. I can show you something that is important. Take a man who has been hungry for two days and tell him that nothing matters; tell him that there is no use worrying about his starvation because there is no other life in the universe and human life soon passes away; and he will reply that despite these obvious truths, he still wants to eat. And that," said I after a whole day of legislating, "is the important question now. To blame," said I, "with the Special Powers Act and the Legislature and the universe; to blame even with the Johnson Street Bridge. I care not if there be no other life in the universe or if the twin bridges never agree to go up and down together. I am hungry and I must eat," said I.

MACHINES

SO WE TORE ourselves away from the great, brooding peace of the Johnson Street Bridge and wandered towards the hurrying, noisy marts of men. And as we passed along Wharf Street, we beheld a yard, behind a high board fence, filled with a mighty jungle of old and discarded bits of men's machinery—automobile parts mostly, the wheels, springs, engines which only yesterday were tearing along our roads. Here, indeed, was a perfect picture of our machine-age dead and reduced to its ultimate skeleton.

But, said my philosophical friend, it will rise again. One of these days the steel skeletons will be shipped to Japan and made into shells and bullets and shortly the automobile in which you used to drive over the Johnson Street Bridge will be hurled across the Oriental sky, to burst as shrapnel and blow patriotic Russians and Japanese to pieces.

PEAR TREE

IN THE VERY midst of this rusty, twisted and grisly jungle of discarded machines another kind of growth was surging up. There, among the ruin of men's discarded works, stood an ancient pear tree, which must have been planted there when Fort Victoria hugged the waterfront and little gardens bloomed about the site of the Johnson Street Bridge. And utterly heedless of the ruin about it, the ancient pear tree was putting forth once more its great bouquet of blossom, which hung in the twilight there, like fragrant billows above this monstrous, hideous growth of steel and scrap iron, which men will some day manufacture into munitions for their mutual slaughter.

Life still goes on, despite the Legislature, despite the Special Powers Act, despite the Johnson Street Bridge. And I have won a bet of one excellent dinner from my philosophical friend by filling an entire column with nothing but the Johnson Street Bridge. Never before has that feat been performed. Under a just Providence never will it occur again. In future, I shall have to find some other way of winning my dinners.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
 March 26, 1909
 From The Times Files

In the course of a few days three or four of the leading spirits of the Victoria Development League succeeded in raising a fund of $8,460, half of which was to be paid in cash next year.

The Michigan Lumber Company, which has recently taken over the holdings of the Jordan River Lumber Company near here, are preparing to fully develop their holdings. Several days ago the announcement was made in The Times that the transfer had taken place.

The all-star California soccer team will leave San Francisco on Saturday on the steamer Buckman, sailing direct for Seattle. From Seattle the team goes direct to Vancouver, playing the first match there on April 3. The time will give the team two days' practice on the Vancouver ground and an opportunity to get into good form and familiar with the playing field.

The Victoria Country Club met yesterday afternoon and definitely decided to hold a sixty-day race meet this summer at the Willows. In addition there will probably be a two to five-days' meet in May to commence on Saturday, May 2.

The steamer Montague reached port late last evening. So severe a gale did the steamer experience on Saturday and Sunday last that one of her boats was washed away and considerable damage was done in the pantry.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

HER PUNISHMENT

Her punishment is this: to see the years go hurrying past brimmed up with stress and change. Uncounted hopes in each and countless fears. Through shifting vistas, fortunes new and old. And yet to stand unshaken by any gust. Of time and circumstance that round her head. To have no sudden doubts, no hopes, no fears. No shining victories, no dark defeats. Immured in life as in a prison cell. A prisoner too ignoble to resist. The guards who pace the walls where he must dwell. With voice or knife or swift-avenging fist. She does not know this is her punishment: To live in vague and meaningless content.

THANKS

To the Editor:—Mr. and Mrs. Page and son wish to thank the people of Shawnigan Lake and districts for their kindness and prompt attention when their house was ruined by a large tree falling on it during the wind storm which occurred in December, 1933, in helping to pay for and rebuild their new house. Thanking all for their wonderful kindness.

Yours truly,
 MR. and MRS. PAGE AND SON,
 Shawnigan Lake, March 17, 1934.

CREDOCRACY AND SOCIAL CREDIT

To the Editor:—Examining the Douglas plan as contained in your issue of this date, one is struck with its similarity to Credocracy on basic principles. Credocracy certainly is more social than the Social Credit plan; in the conception border, and in age, older. Yet the founder of Credocracy, a citizen of Victoria, received no recognition from anyone while Major Douglas is feted everywhere. To enable you to judge Credocracy I refer you to your issue of April 15, 1933, in the magazine section of which is a resume of Credocracy.

"HIGHER THAN A KITE"

To the Editor:—I gather from your report of his speech in the Legislature that Mr. Ansonby is seriously perturbed by the proposal of the Department of Education to increase its expenditure. He says, in part, "Someone's got to stop this ridiculous expenditure! If they don't, S.P.A., or anything else, you'll be sunk higher than a kite." So far as I am able to interpret this cryptic utterance, I gather that the state of affairs is desperate and it behooves us all to do what we can to save the situation. As matters stand at present it would appear that the most prudent trust either in a diving suit or a parachute. However, should the government follow the advice of Dr. Harris and pin its faith in modern science, it is possible that some genius may, ere it is too late, invent a submarine-airplane which would be even more effective and more in harmony with modern ideas. A great advantage in connection with such a device would be the abundance and cheapness in Victoria and its vicinity of that old reliable fuel, "Torybotoir."

A TRIBUTE

To the Editor:—In the passing of W. Curtis Sampson music has lost a keen and constant patron. His enthusiasm for the art was unbounded and inspiring. He was especially interested in all pertaining to the violin; he knew its history; its different makers and the names of past and present famous violinists, and on that instrument he was himself no mean performer.

While he lived, in Vancouver he studied the violin with me, and was always willing to help with his musical talent in the early ensemble groups of that city. Some incidents in which he was keenly associated are again vividly recalled on the occasion of the visit of the late eminent violinist, Trivard Maches, with a cohort of party, as are some similar occasions. These now far-off days and evenings at Vancouver spent with him cannot be forgotten.

GEORGE J. DYKE.

THE PRINCIPLE ADVANTAGE

To the Editor:—May I be permitted to offer some appreciation of your editorial, "The Principle Involved," appearing in your issue of March 21.

While many people, including a considerable number of his own supporters, have grave doubts of the wisdom of the move, Mr. Pattullo the power he seeks under the S.P.A. will be found to question his good intentions or the difficulties of the situation he finds himself in. Not need we necessarily doubt his sincerity in disclaiming any desire or intention to establish anything resembling a dictatorship. This being the case, it seems to me, to be necessary, if only to allay suspicion, that Mr. Pattullo should consent to such safeguards being embodied in the act as will make dictatorship impossible under its provisions.

In particular the rights of free speech and free assembly and association should be specifically recognized in the act as being unaffected by it. Within my own knowledge there is already considerable suspicion arising as to Mr. Pattullo's intentions in this connection. He would say this is "the general good." In this act will be wise if he proves the truth of this statement—beforehand by accepting amendments to the act which will definitely restrict his powers under it in this direction.

The rights referred to are fundamental. With them there is always hope. Without them—democracy is at an end.

March 23.

THE MONEY ILLUSION

To the Editor:—Optical illusions are familiar to everyone. We all know that the stick in the water is not crooked, however, emphatically our eyes may assert that it is. But financial illusions are every bit as real as optical illusions, yet they are scarcely recognized at all. "Money is a distracting veil," said a famous economist. And the financial platitudes that we repeat so blandly are often as absolutely false as that crooked stick.

This world is richer to-day than it ever was; far richer than it was in 1929, potentially. The spectacle of a millionaire walking barefoot along the "key streets" of Montreal would not be his most ridiculous, essentially, than is the spectacle of poverty in Canada to-day. However, genuine the destitution of individuals may be, the poverty of Canada, as a whole, is just as illusory, just as make-believe, as the crookedness of the stick. Destitution is no more necessary in Canada than amplex; it can be abolished, without making anyone poorer in real wealth, as soon as we choose.

Money is a tool (like a hammer). It is the tool for producing and distributing real wealth, viz. all the good things that money will buy. There was a carpenter named Hans Deutsch, who went mad. He filled his workshop so full of hammers that his workmen could get no work done; and finally he was ruined. Another carpenter, who was sane, said, "What an awful example!" So Canuck destroyed hammers, until there was almost a famine in hammers. At last Canuck's workmen spent much of their time struggling for possession of the hammers that were left. So that they could get little work done, and the unlucky ones were in miserable poverty.

One day a passerby said to them: "Why don't you have just enough hammers?" And they all shouted: "Go along, you crazy inflationist! you money-crank, you J. C. Wilson, Montreal, P.O. Box 3174."

"LIBERAL ACTION"

To the Editor:—It seems as if the Special Powers Act has awakened loud-mouthed minority in this city who are not at all aware of the advent of the twentieth century, who apparently believe that Canada and British Columbia should remain politically antique and in a state of constitutional paralysis.

To-day, more than ever in this era of national competition, the fact is to the swift. The survival of the fittest is a law of nature. Any procedure demands adaptation to current circumstances. Those circumstances are now such as to primarily call for rapidly and quickness of political action. A democratic government can only achieve sufficient flexibility for swift action by tempo-arily deputizing extensive discretion and authority on its executive.

Has shattered the notorious smugness and complacency of many well-to-do local citizens. However, the Special Powers Act is an honest recognition of a world-wide phenomenon; all its ancestor-worshipping constitutions leads to the contrary.

Methods of democratic government must evolve and grow, otherwise democracy is doomed to go from decay into extinction. Such evolution and growth are finally taking place in this province. Reduced to its simplest terms, the Special Powers Act is an attempt of a responsible government to be really responsible. It is an expression of willingness to stand or fall by results. As to be fully responsible for such results is the flow of events. A responsible government, what more can one want? This step, which I hope is a permanent step forward, is the evolution through wisdom gained by experience of giving an executive arbitrary powers for limited periods. Then hold them strictly accountable afterward in proving that their actions were for the general good. In this act rapid day-to-day change, what can be there that any rigid formula will be applicable to-morrow? With it, duties and obligations of modern government becoming increasingly complicated and multifarious, who there that can sincerely forecast detail what the future necessities will be?

In my opinion, the government's leader are to be greatly commended for the candor and honesty with which the situation has been faced. There is no possible substantial alternative to the Special Powers Act. No doubt the doing of exact the thing that is implied in the act is a means—understand way out—have been less injurious to the satisfaction of self-righteous critics. Fortunately, the Liberal party in British Columbia seems to have risen above that stupid hypocrisy typical of Canada.

I. R. C. CAUSTON, 1219 Langley Street, Victoria.

AN EXPLANATION

To the Editor:—In reply to John D. Macpherson's letter in yesterday's Times, we should like to state that the undersigned writer, these "poorly expressed" words, received his education entirely in the French language and that, considering that the English tongue is an adopted language, he could be written in a worse manner. In a meantime, although a lover of correct language, we humbly apologize for not being able to give our readers our letters in a literary style in language not our own. (We do not understand, however, anyone not living in letters, still continuing to read them.)

We do not doubt, therefore, that others could express themselves in the "religious" manner wherever we are so much concerned, far better and more lucidly, but we are minded by our Lord that: "If the shall have peace, the storm would immediately cry out!" here we gladly compare ourselves to one of those rough boulders, rolling along if not harmoniously, yet with no uncertain sound. The Lord has times used the uneducated and the scholarly alike, to wit: Amos the herdsman, David the shepherd and Peter, John and James the fishermen; and in later days Billy Bray the Cornish miner, D. L. Moody the store clerk, Mary Slessor the Scotch factory girl, who by the grace of God caused cannibals to become law-abiding Christians, making the country safe for European sojourners at the height of the slave trade.

Mr. Macpherson does not seem to know that all who have been deemed by the precious blood of Christ are called by God to be holy.

NEW MILL FOR RAILWAY TIES

Plant on Somass River Will Supply 5,000,000 Ties For Britain and Orient

Special to The Times
Port Alberni, March 26.—E. Braley of Vancouver has secured a lease of property on the Somass River bank at Lapei-Kupai and has a small saw-mill in course of construction. Mr. Braley has contracts for the supply of 5,000,000 railway ties to be shipped to the United Kingdom and the Orient. Other orders are expected to keep the mill going permanently. There is a good supply of timber in the Alberni Valley suitable for the manufacture of railway ties and Mr. Braley has secured rights sufficient to justify big undertakings. Timber for the Port Alberni mill will be floated down the river, and the ties from the mill after the first order has been completed, will be moved to the assembly wharf by snow, suitable docking facilities on the river front having been arranged for. This new industry will, at the beginning, employ twelve men.

Fisheries Need Much Attention

Industry Suffered Lot in Depression; Needs Reviving

Considerable attention will be devoted to problems of the fishing industry by the government this year, said Hon. George S. Pearson, Commissioner of Fisheries, while estimates for the department were before the Legislature.

Hard hit by the depression, this industry has a wide field for research, the minister said. He mentioned the appointment of the new assistant fisheries commissioner, who he described as an efficient man of considerable experience. This industry had been hit hard by the depression and there was need of extensive research to settle its troubles.

As the Department of Agriculture estimates were discussed, D. W. Strachan, Dewdney, made a plea for additional assistance for small fishers, and was informed by Hon. R. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, that it was unlikely anything more could be done this year. A small vote for grasshopper extermination has been dropped, as this year comes under the Grasshopper Control Act, but a vote of $2,500 has been included for gopher extermination as this pest has become somewhat of a menace to farmers.

The total vote of the department is $271,346.82, as against $252,241 of last year.

The game branch vote, totalling in all $193,942, a decline of $6,000, was passed.

To the fishing industry the government will also pay special attention, said Mr. Pearson, in explaining the appointment of the new assistant fisheries commissioner, who he described as an efficient man of considerable experience. This industry had been hit hard by the depression and there was need of extensive research to settle its troubles.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET HELD

Metropolitan Boys' Department Organizes Annual Event

The annual father and son event of Metropolitan United Church boys' department took the form of an informal frolic in the schoolroom on Friday evening.

The programme opened with a sing-song which was followed by a violin solo played by Leslie Jordan. C. Clark led in a number of group games. Stanley James contributed comic songs. Mr. Foster played a well-received pipe solo. Frank Tupperman gave a humorous reading. Rev. E. F. Church recited a humorous piece and J. Warr sang a humorous song.

The Tuxis Square under the direction of James Brown presented a dramatic stunt that caused great merriment. Frank Merryfield created a great deal of wonder and amazement with his numerous magical tricks.

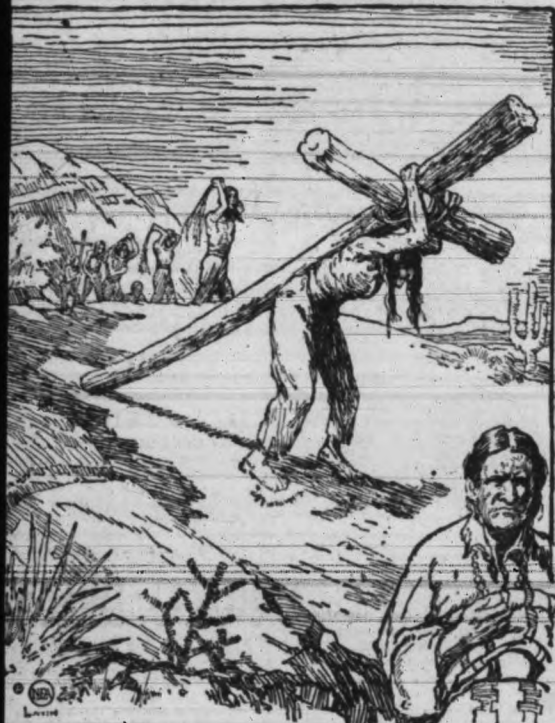

Refreshments were served by a committee comprised of Misses E. Middleton, Elizabeth Jones, Phyllis Benson and Elaine Walker.

The evening closed with an impressive candle lighting worship service led by J. Warr, and assisted by A. J. Daniels, G. Robinson, Jack Holland and C. Clark on the theme "Partnership."

ST. LUKE'S A.Y.P.A.

All members are asked to attend the next meeting of St. Luke's A.Y.P.A. to-night, to make final arrangements for a hike on Good Friday. On April 10 an old-time dance will be held in the parish hall.

EASTER CUSTOMS around the World

Perhaps the weirdest and cruelest Easter ceremony in all North America is that of the Penitente Brothers in New Mexico, who each year re-enact the drama of the crucifixion with such excess of emotional fervor that the Indian who takes the role of Christ frequently dies from his sufferings on the cross. Worshipers in the religious procession following the cross-bearer beat themselves so cruelly with cat-whips that they, too, sometimes sacrifice their lives.

DAVID SPENCER LTD.
PHONE 5 EMPIRE 4111ART OF 1700
IS DESCRIBEDMiss Jean Auld Speaks of Eighteenth Century French and English Schools

French and English art in the eighteenth century was the subject of the very interesting course given by Miss Jean Auld at the Empress Hotel on Friday evening, April 6, in the series of lectures on the History of Art. The last one of the series, which have been given under the auspices of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, will be held on Friday evening, April 6, instead of next Friday. It was announced by the president, Mrs. H. M.
Hall, who acted as chairman.

After noting that, in England, as on the Continent, there had been a primitive native school, which had been swept away by the Wars of the Roses, Miss Auld alluded to the invasion of England by foreign artists, of whom Van Dyke was the only one who left any permanent influence on British art and who was practically the founder of the English school of portrait painting.

Hogarth and Blake, the only two who escaped the Italian influence, Rembrandt, Gainsborough, Lawrence, Turner, Hoppner and Raeburn, all portraits, Wilson, Constable and Turner, landscapes, were all touched upon and their characteristics noted, the speaker illustrating her many points with a series of fine slides of some of their masterpieces. The lecture also briefly touched on the pre-Raphaelite movement and the aesthetic movement sponsored by Burne-Jones and William Morris.

After reviewing the French school of the eighteenth century and the founding of the French Academy, Miss Auld described the work of Clouet, Poussin, Claude, Watteau, Boucher, Greuze, Chardin, David, Ingres and Gros, and their very definite contributions to the art of their period, showing examples of their work upon the screen.

GIRL GUIDES ENTERTAIN

The First South Spanish Company of Girl Guides entertained at the annual mothers' tea at the Institute Hall, Brentwood, Saturday afternoon.

Part songs, a country dance and a little play, "Sleepy John," were enacted under the leadership of Miss Ethel Gale. Interest was evinced by the visitors in the handicraft model, under preparation for exhibit in the competition being arranged in connection with the annual meeting to be held at the Empress Hotel on April 20 and 21. A brief message was read from Maurice Atkins offering to help in the formation of a Boy Scout troop. Parents interested were asked to communicate with Mr.
Atkins at the Brentwood Bay store.

Tea was served by the Guides, the tables being arranged with the colors and flowers of the three parades, the fuchsia, lily of the valley and Swallowtail.

Northern Electric WASHERS

WHEN YOU look over the beautiful enameled body, the covered shafts and gears, the wringer safety release, the new type agitator, and all the other improvements incorporated in the new Northern Electric Washers, you will realize that "everything has been thought of."

With the model "S" (shown above) you can wash and wring at the same time... while you wring out the first batch the second is washing! This saves time on washday. The new type agitator churns the soapy water and forces it through heavy garments and sheer lingerie... removing every particle of dirt without the slightest injury to the fabric.

B.C. Electric Stores offer easy terms and a generous allowance for your present washer on the purchase of a new A.B.C. The model above is a wonderful buy at $94.50—quality-built to Northern Electric high standards throughout. Why not call in at our showrooms and see it in action!

WOMAN AND HER BABY BURNED

Two Lose Lives When Flames Sweep Home at Sarnia, Ontario

Sarnia, Ont., March 26.—A mother and her fifteen-month-old child died when flames from a kerosene lamp exploded while it was being used on a small coal stove in the home of Thomas Chambers of Sarnia.

The victim was Mrs. Jessie Young, wife of Robert Young of Sarnia, and her daughter Margaret, fifteen months old. Mrs. Young was attempting to light the coal stove with kerosene from a can when an explosion resulted. Fire followed and spread to the woman's clothing. She dashed to the baby carriage to remove the child from the house, which she feared would burn. As Mrs. Young picked the baby up from the carriage, flames from the burning garments, the mother did not notice the baby's burning dress. She ran outside and rolled the child on the ground. Mrs. Young's frantic screams attracted neighbors. They found the woman standing in the yard with her clothes burning from her body. Mrs. Young was unable to speak. The baby was lying on the ground, its clothes also burning from its body. When Dr. L. R. Aiken, Courtwright coroner, arrived the baby was dead. Mrs. Young was rushed to the Sarnia

General Hospital, where she died four hours later.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

CONSTIPATION CLOSELY LINKED TO NUTRITION

The question of constipation is inseparable from that of nutrition. The laxative who skips blithely from one laxative to another is blind to the real issue. Why should not nature do its own work if the child is furnished ample nutrition? It will.

LAXATIVES INEFFECTIVE
Mrs. M. K. has a baby now four months old, who weighs twelve and three-quarters pounds. The baby weighed nine and one-half pounds at birth. She is nursed every three hours, nurses but five minutes and then refuses more, but acts satisfied. So far she has had nothing but breast milk, orange juice, and mineral oil. The mother has used familiar baby laxatives and a daily enema all without much result. The baby sleeps well at night, but naps only short periods during the day. The mother's only question is what kind of laxative I think most effective.

A consideration of laxatives is putting the cart before the horse. This baby weighed two pounds more than average at birth and now weighs one pound less than average. That is a deficit of three pounds over the expected weight, not an inconsiderable amount in a four-month-old baby. The fact that the baby refuses to nurse after five minutes of effort would be nothing to worry about were the gain adequate. Many babies gain beautifully on a five-minute nursing period. This baby does not, apparently refusing to exert herself nursing an empty breast.

MAKE PROPER CHANGES

It would be advisable to drop the use of all laxatives and artificial ef-

The baby should be nursed on both breasts every four hours. Immediately following the nursing a complementary bottle may be offered. Send for my leaflet, "How to Figure Complementary Formulas," and enclose only a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The rest of the diet should consist of orange juice daily, cod liver oil three times a day up until the first of June, and if the complementary formula does not induce sufficient gain, cereal may be added to the diet. PLOT TO DERAIL TRAIN FAILS

Dublin, Irish Free State, March 26.—Conspirators yesterday evening removed rail joints from the track over which General Eoin O'Duffy, blue-shirt leader, traveled to Ennis, County Clare, for a political meeting, but O'Duffy's train passed over the route without accident.

The meeting at which the general spoke was orderly. O'Duffy said abolition of the Senate, as proposed by President Eamon de Valera, would have a serious consequence in ennobling the political party in power in the Dail—Breann to control the judiciary.

Marriage
A Success?

How Has the Fifty-Fifty Marriage Worked Out? The Net Result, Cry Wives, Is that the Wife Who Supports Herself Soon Finds She Has to Support Her Husband, While Men Resent Wives' Independence

IN THE good old days when a man endowed his bride with all his worldly goods at the altar and expected as a matter of course to support her marriage was a much simpler proposition for women than it is now. Then the husband brought home the bacon and the wife fried it, and that was that.

Grandpa no more expected grandma to be a money-earner than she expected him to be a nursemaid. Each performed his or her respective part in the domestic partnership and it made for the peace and prosperity of the firm. But modern economic conditions have changed that fair division of labor and given the heavy end of the bargain to the woman, who, in many cases, is forced to do double duty, to not only bake the bread but make the dough.

Primarily this state of affairs is no fault of the individual man. Probably every man would like to be a beneficent Providence to his wife and sit her down on a silk cushion and feed her on strawberries, sugar and cream, like the lady in the fairy story. Probably it hurts every man's pride not to be able to take his bride to his home and keep her safe and comfortable in it.

But it is a condition and not a romantic theory that the average young couple faces to-day, and the fact remains that thousands upon thousands cannot get married unless the woman continues on with her job. On what the man earns they could not live, or could exist only in the direst poverty, but with the wife's pay envelope added to the husband's they have a comfortable support.

On the face of it, it seems an ideal solution of a difficult problem. It enables two young people to marry while the glamour is still on their love and before their wedding cake has got stale from being too long on the shelf. It puts marriage on a fifty-fifty basis, with the husband and wife both contributing to the upkeep of the home, both having their individual independence, and perhaps being more congenial and companionable with each other because they both speak the same language, instead of one talking of contracts and big deals and the fluctuation of the stock market, while the other babbles of baby formulas and the price of butchers' meat.

It seemed the modern romance and one grew almost maudlin in contemplating the bliss that must ensue from these Dutch-treat weddings. But, alas, it appears that they are not only subject to all the trials and tribulations incident to the old-fashioned, man-supported marriage, but have an additional lot of troubles of their own.

The new arrangement seems to have given satisfaction to neither party, and loud and furious and frequent squawks of protest come both from husbands and wives. The men's objection to the self-supporting wife is that she can't be bossed and that she is uppity and independent and does not regard a husband as he who must be obeyed.

Also she lacks that sweet humility and forgiving spirit that made the wife who was financially dependent upon her husband turn a blind eye on his faults and overlook his misdeeds.

Of course, say these husbands, it is very comfortable and convenient to have a wife who pays her half of the bills, but it is a pain in the neck to have one who asserts her right to do as she pleases because she is self-supporting and who can put on her hat and walk out on a man if he doesn't give satisfaction. So what?

On their part the women complain that a wife can't help her husband without ruining him and that when George finds out that Mary can support the family he simply sits down and lets her do it. They further contend that the Lord intended a wife to be a good in her husband's side to spur him on to achievement, and that when he lacks this he never gets anywhere.

"When we were married to poor men," say these disgruntled wives, "we thought it would be simply grand and thrilling to work at our old occupations for a year or two and help our husbands get a start and commence paying on a little home. Then we were going to stop and get busy in our little white kitchen and have babies and live the normal life of women. And we never doubted that seeing us so bravely shouldering a double job, working all day in an office and then rushing home and getting dinner, would make our husbands roll up their sleeves and put in the hardest ticks of which they were capable."

"But it hasn't turned out that way. After five or ten years, most of us are still standing behind counters and punching typewriters, and, if we talked of resigning, our husbands would have fits. They have slackened down on their work and a lot of them have turned quitters because they know that we will pay the rent and buy the food, if they don't. And whatever money they make they spend on themselves. They don't even make us presents, because what's the use of buying a hat for a wife who can buy one for herself?"

"Maybe it is all logical enough, but two things are certain: One is that the self-supporting wife not only has to support herself but generally has to support her husband also. And the other is that the more a woman hangs like a millstone around her husband's neck, the more he loves her."

CHOCOLATE GIVES DESSERTS
SPECIAL TOUCH

By SISTER MARY

Chocolate is one of the most popular flavors the cook has at hand. Cleverly used, it will turn many an otherwise uninteresting dessert into something quite "special." Aside from this chocolate is a splendid food and adds many calories to any dish in which it is used.

On account of its composition, chocolate and chocolate dishes are so rich. For this reason, don't try to melt chocolate over direct heat. Put the chocolate on a piece of wax paper in a saucer and place over hot water until melted. After the chocolate is used the paper can be thrown away and the dish is easily washed. You may have had trouble in combining chocolate and liquids. Try melting the chocolate in the top of a double boiler over hot water, then add the liquid which should be warm or about the same temperature as the chocolate. Add very slowly, beating constantly, or you can cut the chocolate in small pieces and put it in the double boiler with cold liquid. Place over hot but not boiling water and heat slowly so that the chocolate will melt as fast as the milk does. Beat with a rotary beater until the mixture is smooth and perfectly blended.

Chocolate rice pudding is a good nourishing dessert for children and old. CHOCOLATE RICE PUDDING. One-third cup rice, 2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 egg, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla.

Scald milk in top of double boiler, add rice, salt and butter and cook until rice is soft. Add chocolate cut in small pieces and sugar. Cook until chocolate is melted. Add egg of egg well beaten and remove from fire. Fold in white of egg beaten until stiff and dry. Add vanilla. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve warm with sugar and cream.

CHOCOLATE CREAM. This is a delicious chilled dessert that you may want to serve at your next party.

Two cups whipping cream, 2 squares (ounces) bitter chocolate, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1 egg, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, few grains salt.

Cut chocolate in small pieces, add boiling water and let stand over hot water until chocolate is melted and the mixture is smooth. Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes and add to hot mixture. Stir until dissolved, keeping over hot water if necessary. Add sugar and let cool, stirring occasionally. Whip cream until firm, beating in salt and vanilla. Fold into chocolate mixture and turn into a mold which has been dipped in cold water. Let stand on ice for three hours or longer to chill and unmold. Decorate with a chilled-cream plate or platter and garnish with whipped cream sweetened and lightly flavored with oil of peppermint.

Lunch: Corn soufflé, new peas in orange sauce, graham rolls, canned quinces, milk, tea.

HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS

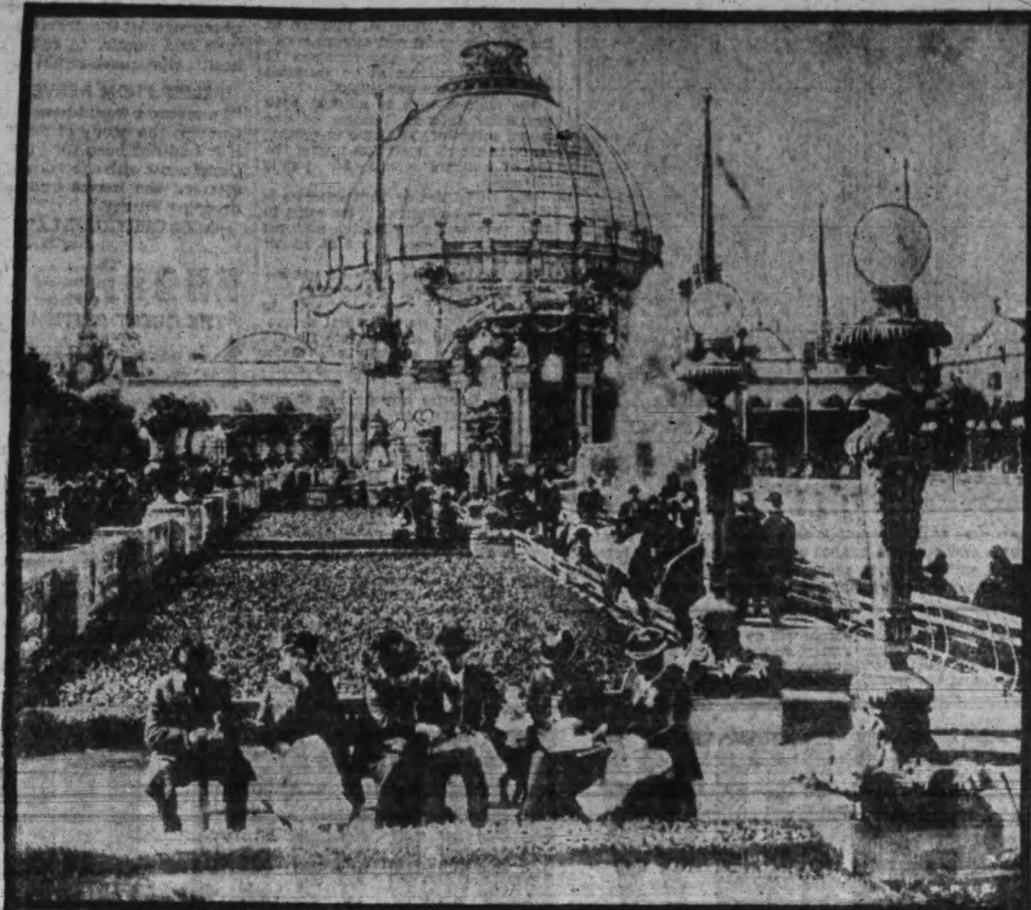

Two Whose Fame Can Never Fade, As They Looked In the Pre-gasoline Era

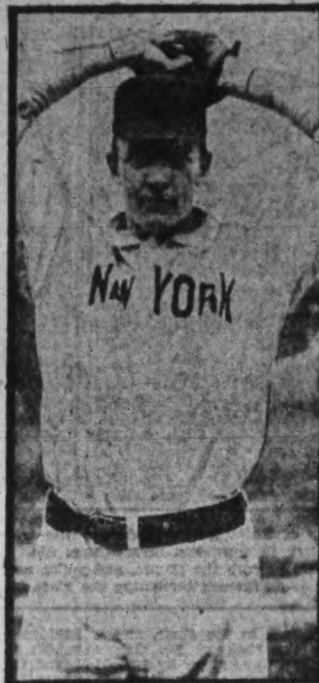

Forty-eight years ago this grand woman made her first stage appearance as Cigarette in "Under Two Flags." Twenty-four years ago she had half the country holding its sides laughing at "Tillie's Nightmare." And to-day she is as great a star as ever, having captured the movies as easily as she did the stage. Marie Dressler, of course, as she appeared in vaudeville in 1909.

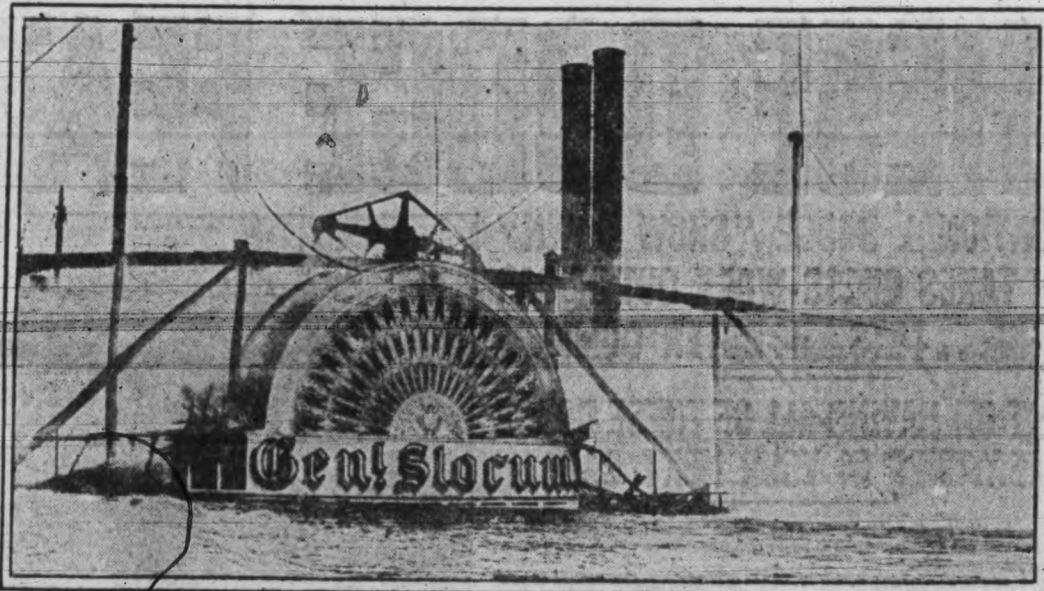

Lulu Glaser was one of the musical comedy stars of the early 1900s. Here she is as Dorothy Gay in "Miss Dolly Dollars" in 1905, apparently just about to burst into song.

One guess, and we'll bet you're wrong. Chicago World's Fair of 1893? Not Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. Queen Mary hats and lunch out of a shoe-box were still very much in style. Many Victorians attended this fair.

Lots of people still say Mattie was the greatest of them all. Though he was already great in 1904, when this picture was made, some of Christy Mathewson's records still stand. It was in 1905, for instance, that he pitched three shutouts for the Giants in the World Series with the Athletics. Mattie died in 1925 from tuberculosis after being gassed in the World War.

A more terrible disaster ever took place on the water than the burning of the excursion steamer General Slocum in the Hell Gate passage of the East River at New York. The Slocum burned to the water's edge and sank, taking the lives of 1,021 people, many of them women and children.

'White Collar' Women Are Rejoicing Again

By Mary Margaret McBride
New York, March 24.—In line with jaunty slogan, "Confidence," as the battle cry of 1934 National Business Women's Week, 10,000 "white collar" women, some of whom have been out of work for as long as three years, are rejoicing in new, full-time jobs found for them by members of their local Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

MacDonald Bowman, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which sponsors Business Women's Week, beginning March 1, the goal of 10,000 jobs has actually been over-reached.

JOBS GO BEGGING

Most clubs have obtained double and even triple their quota of eight jobs, and some have done far better. Only one real failure has been reported, and that is for an almost incredible reason.

In fact, according to Mrs. Geline The Las Vegas, Nev., club, Mrs.

MRS. GELINE MACDONALD BOWMAN Bowman declares, can't find any unemployed women! There are plenty of jobs but no applicants! "Las Vegas club members declare that firms in their town have actually been sending to Los Angeles for office employees to fill the places of those who have left the city or married and given up work," Mrs. Bowman explains. "In a vain last effort, the club checked up on commercial high school graduates of the past three years. All were either working, or married and keeping house. Finally, desperate about their quota, the girls discovered one woman who wanted a job as cook. They placed her instantly with a newcomer, who was wondering where in the world she was going to find help in a town where there were so few unemployed. The Las Vegas club, therefore, has one job to its credit, after all."

The clubs have all co-operated with the CWA, the temporary employment committees and any similar agencies in their communities," says Mrs. Bowman. "They did not wait to find employers that were looking for workers, but surveyed local businesses and in many cases visualized brand-new jobs."

Then they visited the firmheads and sold their ideas. After that, they produced competent persons to fill the places. The keynote of the women who carried out this gigantic plan was faith. They believe in their country and in its ability to give everybody a chance to work and earn. That belief strengthened them to do what they did.

They got many part-time jobs that we have not counted, and also assisted in bringing about the re-employment of many women who had been let off during the slump. Altogether, the total of women working again as the result of the campaign will probably be many thousands more than the original objective."

Dr. P. E. Margeson Wins Reifel Cup

Nanaimo, March 26.—Dr. P. E. Margeson won the Con Reifel Cup, emblematic of the local golf monthly medal competition here yesterday. H. McVicar was runner-up.

H. H. Powell, New Westminster, was elected president of the British Columbia Softball Association at the annual meeting held here yesterday. Other officers elected were: Past president, D. Cochrane, Duncan; first vice-president, E. Stock, Victoria; second vice-president, J. Wright, Vancouver; third vice-president, J. Knight, Ladysmith; secretary-treasurer, H. R. Davidson, Vancouver. Important changes were made in the rules. The closing date for declaring the winner of provincial honors was set on or before Labor Day. The retiring president and secretary were voted $25 and same amount was allotted to the winning team of provincial honors last year to provide medals. The secretary's report showed a balance of $176.39.

Campbell, Now On Gold Hunt, To Seek New Speed Record On Sunbaked Salt Lake Track

Special Correspondence of The Victoria Daily Times

LONDON. DAYTONA BEACH, the famous stretch of sand on the holiday coast of Florida, which has been the cockpit of the world's land speed records for many years, has shed its glory.

A quarter of a century ago Henry Ford established a world's speed record there, and since then it has been regarded as the pre-eminent track by speed kings.

But modern speed has outgrown the sands. The disadvantages which are inseparable from inconsistent surface and sea spray on wind-screens has spelt the doom of Daytona.

Sir Malcolm Campbell is to make his next attempt on the new-found track at Salt Lake, Utah, where he hopes to achieve a speed of 300 miles an hour.

He may be joined by John Cobb, whose immediate objective is the twenty-four-hour record.

Cobb is to attempt this record at Monthery, the track outside Paris, or at the new Avus track, but if he is unsuccessful he plans to take his huge car to Utah.

It will be recalled that Sir Malcolm Campbell, not entirely satisfied with Daytona, some six or seven years ago attempted the record on the mud track at Verneuk Pan, South Africa.

His next venture will be on a track of sunbaked salt about next July. Meanwhile Sir Malcolm Campbell has gone off to Capetown on an adventurous search for gold. He has taken with him a pilot with airplane, and a geologist.

OFF TO THE KALAHARI HIS OBJECTIVE is a secret area in the Kalahari Desert, where there is said to be a fabulously rich gold reef, a plan of which has been in his possession for some time.

It was sent to him by an elderly woman after hearing his broadcast talk of his treasure-seeking expedition to the Cocos Island, and she said it had been left her by her father, who was a great traveler. Although this venture is in the nature of a holiday in between further attempts on the motor car speed record, which he already holds, it will be no joy ride for the territory is waterless and intensely hot. BASE ON THE COAST ORIGINALLY he had planned to camp on the site, using his airplane as a means of transport between the camp and civilization, but now he may make his base on the coast and fly each day to the place where he is to prospect. "We are going about the job in a business-like way," Sir Malcolm declared before sailing, "and the geologist is taking with him the latest scientific instruments for prospecting, including a magnetic apparatus that will indicate the presence of gold quartz. "I have no idea how long we shall be away; it rather depends on the success of our venture. "I am determined to be back in plenty of time to make another attempt on the speed record next July at Salsuro Lake, near Salt Lake City."

One of the persons most interested in the expedition is Sir Malcolm Campbell's daughter Jean, and she, with Lady Campbell and Major and Mrs. Whitall, Lady Campbell's parents, saw him off from Southampton.

Sir Alan Cobham originally intended to accompany Sir Malcolm, but he found it impossible to leave England and will make the journey later by air.

TO DEVELOP HEDLEY MINE

Work Starts Immediately on Rich Property; Fine Reports Are Given

An active development programme on the Hedley Sterling group of twelve mineral claims, five miles west of Hedley, B.C., in the Similkameen district, will be undertaken immediately by the newly organized Hedley Sterling Gold Mines Limited, it is announced to-day by Colquhoun, de Wolfe & Co. Limited, which has underwritten an issue of 200,000 shares of common stock in the company.

The property lies across the river from the famous Nickel Plate mine, which produced $11,500,000 in gold up to 1927.

Hedley Sterling has been under development for several years, first by Dan McKinnon and later by the Canada Lode Gold Limited. M. K. Rodgers, mining engineer of wide experience, states: "Nowhere between Alaska and Mexico do I know of any fifteen miles of territory that will sample equal to the fifteen miles of which Hedley, B.C., is the centre."

J. D. Galloway, consulting engineer, who has just completed a report on the property, states in part: "The property is ideally situated for low mining costs. The property warrants careful and thorough exploration and development with the hope of making a productive mine."

The following board of directors of the company are all well-known British Columbia business men, including some of the most efficient financial managers in the province: J. F. Smith, E. L. Boulbee, T. St. E. de Wolf, C. A. P. D. Gordon, Byron Johnson, M.P.P.; Col.
James Lightbody, D.S.O., and Daniel

China Absorbs B.C. Newsprint

China offers a steadily growing market for British Columbia newsprint, states J. G. Anderson, representative of the Powell River Paper Company at Shanghai, who was at the Empress Hotel over the week-end.

"Last year," said Mr. Anderson on Saturday morning, "we imported into China 30,000 tons of B.C. manufactured newsprint from the Powell River plant, and we expect to take 50,000 tons this year. The trouble is, we cannot get enough tonnage," he added.

Mr. Anderson said the Powell River mill, from where he has just returned after arranging for shipments to the Orient, is working one hundred per cent to keep pace with the orders on hand.

Mr. Anderson crossed the Pacific from Shanghai on the last inbound trip of the Empress of Russia, and he is waiting over to sail by the Empress of Canada, sailing April 7 for the Orient.

CLOSE CALL IN ACCIDENT

Driver and Four Women Passengers Unharmed
When Car Turns Over

When their car turned over on its side and slid several feet, narrowly missing a telephone pole, five persons escaped serious injury in an accident at the corner of Pandora and Belcher Avenues about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Charles H. Bradshaw, 1159 Empress Avenue, was driving east on Pandora Avenue at the time, following a street car. As he neared Belcher Avenue, Mr. Bradshaw drew ahead of the car and commenced to turn north.

He succeeded in driving about three-quarters of the way across the track when the street car struck the rear corner of the automobile. The vehicle turned over and slid within a short distance of a telephone pole at the northeast corner of the intersection. The street car was operated by Walter Akerman.

Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Ann Watkins,
1262 Kings Road; Mrs. Pearl Hardy and Miss J. E. Mayhew, both of 1839 Belcher Avenue, who were passengers in the car, miraculously escaped injuries of a more serious nature than those which they sustained. Mrs. Watkins had a slight cut on her head, while all suffered from shock. The driver was uninjured.

The car was badly damaged, the roof being torn off while the body on one side was ruined.

Inspector John T. Boulton and Constantines P. W. Richards and Maurice Wilkinson attended with the police patrol.

Repertory Theatre will act as adjudicator, and the same system of judg-

HAVE A "SHOW DOWN" ON THESE DODGE FEATURES

SENSATIONAL DODGE "SHOW DOWN" PLAN TAKES GUESS-WORK OUT OF CAR
BUYING... LETS THE BUYER COMPARE INSIST ON HAVING ALL OF THESE DODGE FEATURES IN YOUR NEXT CAR

Car buyers all over Canada are using the Dodge "Show-Down" plan. It's the fair way to judge automobiles—lets the buyer compare new cars feature-by-feature, point-by-point.

There is no chance of going wrong... of not getting the car best suited to your needs... when you pick your new car on this "Show-Down" plan.

When you buy your car on the "Show-Down" plan you don't have to accept anybody's word for what Dodge can give you as against competitive cars.

You see everything... try everything... check everything—before you buy!

You see exactly how Dodge hydraulic brakes work. Why they're safer. More dependable.

You see why Dodge all-steel body, reinforced with steel, is safer than wood.

Why Dodge double-drop X-type box section frame keeps the car close to the ground. How you can take sharp curves with safety.

You learn for yourself that "Floating Cushion" wheels smooth out the bumps in the road—do away with back-seat bouncing.

You learn for yourself that patented Floating Power engine mountings smother engine vibration.

See your Dodge dealer today and arrange for a "Show-Down" demonstration—and remember—Dodge is Priced Right Down Among the Lowest-Priced Cars!

DODGE 7-POINT VENTILATION gives you any kind of ventilation you desire... you can have a gale of wind or you can ventilate the car without a draft. Two points to notice about Dodge ventilation —the windshield opens with a simple crank on the dash and the whole front door window lowers if you want it to. 1. Cowl ventilator.
2. Windshield opens. 3. Front half of forward window opens. 4.
Rear half may be lowered. 5. Both halves lock into a single unit which may be raised or lowered as an ordinary window. 6. Rear door window raises and lowers. 7. Rear window has "butterfly" draft control.

NEW DODGE WINDSHIELD OPENER is operated by simple crank on the dash. The windshield opens WIDE. It is pushed out by a steel strip which, because it is always under tension, prevents rattling.
Note the big glove compartment on the dash in this new Dodge. The simple panel in the center is an ash tray; but if you put in a radio the ash tray is taken out and the radio control panel goes here. A new convenient arrangement.

THIS NEW DODGE IS A BEAUTY! Canadians everywhere are thrilled by its modern design.
They're amazed that this big 114-inch wheelbase car is priced right down among the lowest priced cars. When you see the new Dodge look at the new 7-point ventilation that gives you any kind of ventilation you want. This new Dodge is bigger, faster, more rugged than ever. There are two models, one with 77-horsepower on 114-inch wheelbase, another with 82-horsepower on 117 inch wheelbase.

DODGE "FLOATING CUSHION" WHEELS. A method independent front wheel springing the same as used in many of the world's highest priced cars. The long, soft coil spring at front and "bucking" and back-seat "bounce". Each front wheel takes its own bumps independently of the other and without transmitting the shock to the passengers. "Floating Cushion" wheels have enabled Dodge engineers to give you perfected, shockless cross-country.

DODGE HYDRAULIC BRAKES stop on a dime. They are dependable in all kinds of weather. Dodge hydraulic brakes are always equalized. They do not need constant adjusting. They save you money. Constant equalization prevents swerving when you stop suddenly... you have CONTROL of your car at all times. This is a protection for you and your family.

DODGE ALL-STEEL BODY is a real modern body for modern people. It's made of steel and reinforced with steel—electrically fused into one shock-resisting whole. Look at the test Dodge engineers are giving this car! Pitched over the cliff ... rolling, bouncing, leaping into the air and finally landing right side up. The doors opened and closed—the engine ran and the car drove away under its own power. Steel is stronger, steel is safer. Steel will last longer. Insist on an all steel body.

Credit Plan Of Interest Here

Legislators to Hear Major Douglas; How McGeer and Douglas Ideas Compare

Major C. H. Douglas, founder of the Douglas social and economic system, will address the members of the B.C. Legislature at an informal gathering to-morrow night.

His address here is awaited with particular interest, because of the recent action of the House in passing G. G. McGeer's resolution urging the use of national credit for public financing.

The basic idea of both schemes is declared to be somewhat the same in that they would utilize the national credit for the public benefit rather than for private profit.

Mr. McGeer's proposals do not extend so far as those of Major Douglas in that they would apply only to public, that is governmental financing, and would leave private financing more or less undisturbed. Major Douglas's plan applies to the entire financial structure.

Major Douglas says finance should be the "handmaiden, not the master of industry" and the financial system should reflect and not control the industrial and economic system.
Mr. McGeer and Major Douglas talked over their plans when the latter reached here aboard the R.M.S.
Aorangi.

ROUT FISHING SEASON OPENS

Prospects at Shawnigan; Malahat Board Asks for Road Improvements

Shawnigan Lake, March 26.—The first meeting of the S.L.A.A. held its first meeting last week, with William Fraser, president, in the chair. W. Fraser, Shawnigan, was re-elected member of the board. The fish and game committee reported the prospects good for trout when the season opens at the April 1. The public works committee brought up the question of poor condition of the cut-off from Cousins camp to Shawnigan Lake and along the lake to the hill. A resolution asking for "straightening and surface" of this important highway was adopted and ordered sent to the Minister of Public Works and to the Mobile Club and Coach Lines for their co-operation. It was suggested a conference be asked the public works department on important improvements in the district, especially the outlet of debris so as to avoid the serious flood conditions which occurred this winter. Property suffered severe loss through high water caused by drift logs debris choking the outlet. The committee collects reliable data on all points and a round-table talk will prove useful to the department.

At the left is the jail at Crown Point, Indiana, from which John Dillinger, the notorious bank robber and killer, made a daring escape after bluffing guards with a toy pistol and securing a machine gun. Above, Dillinger is shown, leaning affectionately on the shoulder of the Prosecuting Attorney, Mr. Estell, after his arrival from Tucson, Arizona. At the left in the group is Mrs. Lillian Holley, woman sheriff of Lake County, who had charge of the desperado.

PET POISONING INVESTIGATED

Cat and Dog Deaths Traced to Strychnine; Reward Offered

The inspector of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals reports that there have been several cases of poisoning of both dogs and cats recently, one of which has been traced definitely to strychnine. Section 337 of the Criminal Code provides as follows:

1. Everyone is guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty not exceeding $500 over and above the amount of injury done, or to one year's imprisonment with or without hard labor, who
a. Attempts to kill, maim, wound, poison or injure any dog, bird, beast or other animal not being cattle, but being either the subject of larceny at common law, or being ordinarily kept in a state of confinement, or kept for any lawful purpose; or
b. Places poison in such a position as to be easily accessible to any such dog, bird, beast or other animal not being cattle, but being either the subject of larceny at common law, or being ordinarily kept in a state of confinement, or kept for any lawful purpose.

Under Section 30 of the Revised Statutes, Pharmacy Act, 1911, every person who places poison outside of his own building or outbuilding or upon any lands possessed by him for the destruction of noxious animals, or for any purpose whatever shall give notice to all persons or families residing within two miles of the place where the poison is placed, by posting notices in five of the most public places within two miles of where the poison is to be placed, and said notices shall be posted for at least twenty-four hours before the placing of any poison, as before mentioned. Failure to give or post such notices as aforesaid shall be an offence against this act. This latter section applies to destruction of vermin. The Victoria branch of the S.P.C.A. offers a reward of $25 to anyone giving information which will lead to the conviction of any person or persons unlawfully laying poison in this district. AN IRISH BOMB DID THIS

LATEST "POOCH" IS ECTOPLASMIC

New York, March 26.—There have recently been fewer hospitalized cases of alcoholism than in previous years. But some of the celebrants were seeing things. One fellow, in evening dress and dragging a leash and vacant dog collar behind him, appeared in Dave's Blue Room and tacked two or three times to an anchorage by the cashier. "Bring us," he commanded, "fifty cents' worth of raw ground beef—on a plate." The meat appeared and was paid for. The man put the dish on the floor and fiddled the leash. "Here y'are, boy. Eat your supper." While Broadwayites looked on wonderingly, some snickering, the fellow stood there patiently, looking intently at the place where a dog would have been had there been a dog inside the collar. Finally he gave up. "I guess he doesn't like it," he said, sadly. "C'mon, y'mutt." And out he went, with the ectoplasmic pooch trotting obediently behind.

LOBBYISTS GIRD FOR BIG BATTLE

Washington, March 26.—I would hate to be accused of trying to excite public pity for the lobbyists. But the lobby certainly are being overworked. If the pay were not so fancy, they would be demanding an NRA code providing shorter and shorter hours. The most powerful lobbies here are being called on for supreme effort. And do they respond to the call? Congress, lately described as the lobbyists' rush to NRA, PWA and other administrative agencies, now finds the boys—and girls—swarming back to Capitol Hill. Old line business and industrial interests are pressing against Roosevelt's proposal to allow him to wipe out tariff duties when he thinks it is a good idea. Their lobbyists are at grips with the strong labor lobby over the Wagner bill aimed at company unions. Wall Street will modify the stock market bill or die in the attempt. The munition makers and the peace lobby—both powerful forces—seek respectively to suppress and promote the proposed munitions investigation. More such instances could be cited to show how the lobbying business is spreading employment. But the one thing that brings lobbyists to the Hill in a practically united front is the series of anti-lobbying bills now pending. Each member, however pure, has certain lobbyist friends. "Pure" members work with "pure" lobbyists. Some of the latter, considering their efforts dedicated to humanity and the public interest, do not oppose curbs and publicity.

A 10 per cent increase in pay for all employees of the Kapoor Lumber Company is announced through S. Cowan, accountant. The pay increase, which will take effect immediately, is the third increase since last July. The company has no intention at present of putting on an extra shift, production being maintained to suit the market conditions.

Treasury Bills Of $2,535,000 Sold

Some of the details of how the Provincial Government has attempted to straighten out the finances of the province since it took office on November 15 are given by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, in answers to questions filed on the order paper of the House by R. H. Pooley, K.C., Esquire. As at March 15, the province had no overdraft at the banks, the minister stated. "To finance deficits incurred up to March 31, 1933, still outstanding at November 15, the province sold treasury bills as follows: To the Workmen's Compensation Board $500,000; to the Dominion Government $1,435,000; to the Canadian Bank of Commerce $600,000, a total of $2,535,000. This makes the gross debt of the province at March 15 as $166,908,595.54.

TWO IN CABINET HEADED FOR EXIT

Washington, March 26.—Side lights on the next two resignations from President Roosevelt's cabinet: The cabinet member who has trouble feeding himself. The cabinet member whose wife has a romantic passion for a certain foreign climate, who dominates her husband, and has more and more trouble getting along with the other cabinet gals. Two forthcoming scandals: Shakeup in the customs service, where officials will be shown to have been grafting in collusion with importers. Some big court suits against men who hounded the "richest Indians in the world"—the Osages of Oklahoma. Omega oil royalties amounted to more than $250,000,000 and unscrupulous white men gathered in a huge gob of that.

Centre Ice Star of Montreal
Canadiens Indefinite About Next Season

Chicago, March 26.—Suffering with a broken right hand and a bruised cheek bone, Howie Morenz, Montreal Canadiens hockey star, to-day said he was not sure whether he would go back for his twelfth season in the National Hockey League next winter.

"I've played eleven years, all with Montreal," he said, "and that's quite a while for such a strenuous game as hockey. Maybe I won't go back and maybe I will. After a rest, possibly I'll be anxious to get into the game again. That game against Chicago yesterday evening was one of the greatest I ever played in, despite the fact we lost."

Morenz will have an X-ray taken of his hand to-day and then attend to some business in Chicago. He plans to leave for Montreal Thursday or Friday. He was injured early in the game yesterday evening in a collision with Mush March, who scored the winning goal in the thrilling overtime period.

Royal priesthood, having received the great commission to "preach the Gospel to every creature." This, then, and to exalt the name of Christ, is the sole object of our writing!

We much regret that our letter: "The Young Men in Camp," was cut in two parts. The connection between the two is, however, quite clear to any unbiased person who knows the Bible. As expressed in several of our previous letters: A country stands or falls according to its use of the Bible. The Israelites forgot God and His laws, and God forsaken them! To-day the nations of the world, on the whole, give no longer precedence to the Word of God in the homes, the churches, the schools, the council chambers, the legislatures, with the dire result of a pronounced distrust of nations with perplexity and abnormal social conditions, of which one of the direct results is that on our civilization—"The Young Men in Camp!"

HAMILTON—On March 25, passed away, at the family residence, his twenty-eight year, born in Indiana, Man, and a resident of this city for the last three years and six months, late residence, 1800 Quadra Street. Survived by his wife, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hamilton of 728 Russell Street; one brother, Martin Hamilton of Bridge River; two sisters, Mrs. Fred Neilsen of Victoria and Mrs. George Neilsen of Patricia Bay, also one uncle, Mr. William Hamilton of this city.

The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. O. L. Jewell morning, March 27, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Royal Oak Burial Park.

PARKER—In sacred and loving memory of our darling little Dorothy, who suddenly died March 25, 1934, aged two years and nine months.

Dear Saviour, hold her in Thy arms, Our human hearts and tears.

She was a flower too fair for earth, Sent here but for a while. God marked her when He gave her birth, And took her with a smile.

—Sadly missed by her daddy and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. Parker, R.M.D., No. 1, Rocky Point, B.C.

A BUNDANCE DOES NOT OF NECESS-ity mean a barrel full, but sufficient for the occasion. It may be a cup of cold water to cool a parched tongue, or a loaf of our country whole wheat bread (free from molasses, sugar or white flour) to cheer a dyspeptic or diabetic. When man learns to give thanks for the abundance of the wayside will find the abundance fill his life. Get your order in for our Hot Cross buns—they are full of goodness. When a gas pipe which he was using to melt asphalt exploded, L.
Anderson, St. James Hotel, suffered burns around the face and arms in an accident at the premises of A. P.
Slade & Company this morning. The explosion also caused a small fire which damaged the rear of the build-difficulty in quelling the blaze, which

More Than 800 Artists and Groups Will Take Part in Eighth Annual Competi- tion Opening May 1

Augmented by some of the finest orchestras and artists in the northwest, the eighth annual competition of the Victoria Musical Festival Association to be held this year, commencing May 1, promises to be one of the finest contests the organization has known. It was indicated when entries for the festival were received, exclusive of those contesting the poster competition and all instrumental and vocal classes have been entered.

Among the outstanding orchestras to be heard will be the Royal City orchestra and the Little Yachima Symphony. These will participate in concerts with many of the best orchestras of Victoria and Vancouver.
The band classes will be held in the City Temple.

GREATER THAN 1933

This year's list of entries easily eclipses that of last year when there were nearly 700. Officials are highly gratified with the support accorded the festival, although they expressed disappointment at the lack of response from the church choir, many of which are not taking part this year.

Some new classes have been added to the syllabus by request and these are well filled. The leading number of entries has been received for the concerts with many of the best orchestras of Victoria and Vancouver.
The band classes will be held in the City Temple.

The two conductors' classes are among those which have been added and each has received good support.
One is open to junior choir conductors and the other to seniors. A third class for female music is another addition which has attracted many entries. This is for groups of not more than fifteen voices and representatives come from the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Cubs, C.G.I.T.

MANY JUNIOR CHOIRS

Junior choirs will be well represented in classes for twenty-five and thirty voice groups. All choral competitions will be held at First United Church.

The open oratorio class has attracted both local and out of town contestants. This is also a new section.

Some excellent displays of folk dancing are anticipated at the High School, with Victoria and mainland contestants entered. Among the out-of-town divisions in this class will be the Mary Isidore Dancers, who have always been popular in this city.
The piano classes, which will be held at the Baptist Church, will feature the usual large number of competitors.

The restoration of the organ classes to the syllabus this year has proved another popular feature. This was done for various reasons, including a special request from Vancouver. Both young and old players are taking part.
In all, present indications augur well for the success of the festival and officials are looking forward to the number of new artists in the northwest.

B.C. Logging To Be Investigated

Government Plans Study of Selective Methods and Reforestation

Comprehensive study of British Columbia's whole timber question will be given by the government this year, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, announced in the Legislature this morning, when amendments to the Forest Act were committed.

Points to be investigated will be:
Selective logging, reforestation, slash burning and royalties.

Ernest Bakewell, C.C.F. Mackenzie, a strong advocate of the selective logging system, made another plea for action in this regard. "The pointed out, would eliminate to a large extent, the slash problem."

"I agree we have been mining our timber," said Premier Pattullo. "The methods are very wasteful, but competition has forced this on us."

Mr. Gray declared a very careful study of the whole situation, would be made by experts with a view to mapping a programme of forest conservation and economical logging methods.

Dr. J. J. Gillis, Liberal, Yale, supported Mr. Bakewell in his selective logging proposals, pointing out the high-level system utterly destroyed young growth.

Captain C. S. Leary, Liberal, Kalooskan, declared the day was not far distant when there would be no big timber left on the Coast. At the present rate of logging, the vast stands would disappear in ten or fifteen years.

At present this was particularly deplorable, because timber was being wasted in a prodigious manner and the logging operators were making no money.

Mr. Gray told the House he had learned one of the large companies intended to make tests of selective logging and the results would be awaited with interest.

SPA PROTEST AT LANGFORD

Resolution Objecting to Special Powers Will Be Sent to Lieut.-Governor

Residents of the Metchoin-Langford district, joined by electors from Esquimalt, held a public protest meeting against the Special Powers Act at Langford Saturday evening.

The S.P.A. was termed by the resolution as "subversive of democratic institutions."

Quoting from pre-election speeches of Premier Pattullo, Hon.
G. M. Weir and Byron Johnson were read to support arguments that after election they had switched to a position diametrically opposed to what they had promised the electors they would do for it elected.

The quotations were read by W. D.
Smith, who claimed the men mentioned had been found ready to sacrifice their ideals and had become merely place-seeking politicians. The quotations from published speeches were as follows:

At Lake Hill Hall, Saanich, on November 28, Dr. Weir said: "Liberalism abhors any form of dictatorship and will never submit to it."

At the Hotel Vancouver, last November, Premier Pattullo said: "Extremists nearly always block the way for the things for which they stand, because people instinctively distrust extremists."

Byron Johnson, M.P., at Sidney during the last election campaign, said: "This is no time for experimental legislation or revolutionary legislation. Chaos can easily result if we have a little too far."

Premier Pattullo, as Opposition leader, on October 24 last, in the Georgia Hotel, Vancouver, was cited as having declared that he wanted to hear the people's voice maintained; that the alternative was dictatorship, and that dictatorship could only be maintained by force.

The manifesto of the Provincial Liberal party, led by Mr. Pattullo, before the last election, was quoted as appealing to the electors in these terms: "The Liberal Party believe that the present crisis has been made an excuse for the usurpation of the rights of Parliament and the assumption of autocratic powers by the cabinet. Liberalism stands, as always, for the principle of a Free Parliament and for the supremacy of Parliament."

Premier has been repeatedly challenged to explain why with such a majority behind him in the Legislature, he did not bring in legislation for the restoration of government conditions. Mr. Smith said, "The only conclusion to be drawn from his failure to meet the challenge is that his contemplated measures will not bear the scrutiny of parliamentary debate. If this act passed without a storm of public protest, we might as well ring down the curtain on the parliamentary government and the rights of the people."

A. B. Sanders, dealing with legal and constitutional aspects of the bill, declared the S.P.A. was "dictatorship, neither Liberal and 'Federalism', pure and simple." He said there was nothing immediate to justify the bill and that there had been given to the cabinet the Legislature power to legislate, but not to abdicate or delegate their authority completely.

The resolution, passed unanimously, was as follows:

Whereas the granting of such powers as detailed in the Special Powers Act by the Legislature to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council has received the endorsement of the electorate at the polls;

"Therefore be it resolved that we,
the people of Esquimalt riding, do hereby protest solemnly and with due sense of our responsibility against the placing of such powers in the hands of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council as subversive of democratic institutions and good government, and highly dangerous to the well-being of the people of British Columbia."

"And that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Lieutenant-Governor, the Premier and the Leader of the Opposition."

To Name Officers At Next Meeting

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the next meeting of the Victoria and District Cornish Association to be held on Saturday, April 7, in the Macdonald Hall, Fort Street.
Nominations for the many offices will be held Saturday evening, and results will be announced later.

vaccination, was intensified here to-day to remove as far as possible chances of the spread of smallpox which this morning claimed its first victim in the city this year.

Immediately following the discovery of the disease, Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, in conjunction with the provincial health officer, issued a general warning against the dread illness, advising all citizens to be vaccinated. During the week eighty people were vaccinated at the City Health Officer and thirty-nine more at the Oriental School.

Four direct contacts connected with the fatal case, were among those vaccinated. They were under observation and were showing no signs of having contracted the disease, Dr.
Felton stated to-day.

Commenting on the case Dr. Felton said the victim had been afflicted with the particularly virulent type of oriental smallpox which claimed two lives here last year and was responsible for deaths at William Head recently.

As part of the campaign to avoid spread of infection, the city health officer sent out circular letters quoting provincial regulations regarding smallpox to the effect that "no persons all be employed as sanitary inspector, or policeman, nurse, guard or other attendant in or about any quarantined house, smallpox hospital, or suspect station, or as an undertaker, disinfecter or driver of an ambulance, unless he or she has had smallpox or submits to vaccination; such persons shall be vaccinated by the medical health officer."

Commenting on the local case, Dr.
Felton stated the victim had never been successfully vaccinated. Neither, he added, had other cases which proved fatal in Victoria and at William Head during the last two years.
In cases where recoveries were made at the quarantine station recently, vaccination had been performed satisfactorily.

That method of precaution was the only one known way to check smallpox, the city official stated.

Dr. Felton stated beside the 119 cases of which he knew, several others had been vaccinated by private doctors. No further cases were reported to-day.

CUP SEMIS ANNOUNCED

Draws For Davie and O. B. Allan Trophies Made Saturday at Nanaimo

Draws for the semi-final rounds of the Davie and O. B. Allan cups, emblematic of the Vancouver Island and British Columbia junior soccer championships respectively, were made Saturday evening at Nanaimo at a meeting of the British Columbia Junior Football Association.

Jokers, finalists in the local round of the Davie Cup competition, were drawn against Duncan United, while the match scheduled for the up-Island centre, Cumberland and South Wellington, the other semi-finalists, will meet on the grounds of the former club. The final will be played at Nanaimo.

In the O. B. Allan Cup draw, Duncan will meet Cumberland, at Nanaimo, while Harwood Athletics of Nanaimo, will journey to Vancouver to oppose Port's Radio eleven on the same street grounds. The two survivors will clash in the final at Nanaimo.

The association made it known that all clubs in the junior leagues operating in Victoria and Vancouver, must get the sanction of their local association before playing friendly matches, with Wednesday League clubs.

Senior clubs wishing to transfer junior players must pay a fee of $25 for the services of such players transferred after January 1.

Players transferred before December 1, in the case of the larger amount, $50 is paid to the club from which the player is secured and the balance to the B.C. Football Commission.

In the case of the $25 fee, the whole amount is paid to the club. James Walker, a member of the I.F.A., was Victoria's delegate at the parley. Other representatives on Duncan, Nanaimo, Cumberland and Vancouver attended the meeting.

Detroit Club Hockey Champs

capture U.S. Amateur Title and Right to Play Canada's Titleholders

New York, March 26.—Sweeping through their opponents at will, Detroit White Star Athletic Club, yesterday defeated the Metropolitan All-stars of New York 5 to 1 to win the United States amateur championship and the right to meet Canada's Allan Cup winners for the North American title.

The series is scheduled to be played either Toronto, Ottawa or Montreal next month.

A speedy, smooth-passing team, White Star clearly outplayed their rivals before 10,000 fans in a strenuous wind-up of the three-day playoffs.

The Detroiters are the first western team to win the title in the 100 years of the United States Amateur Athletic Union has conducted the tourney.

Atlantic City Sea Gulls were ineligible to defend their two-year-old title because of the ruling all players must be United States citizens. The Stars comply with this rule though most of them are Canadian-born.

DUNCAN WINS CUP FIXTURE

Defeats Jokers 3 to 1 in Provincial Junior Soccer Play-downs

Having a distinct edge in the play in both halves, Duncan United defeated the Jokers 3 to 1 Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park, in an O. B. Allan Cup junior semi-final fixture. The half-time score was 1 to 0 in favor of the up-Islanders.

Duncan fielded a well-balanced eleven and one that included a number of former Ladysmith and Victoria players, and while they were the better team, did not display the form expected of them. The work of George Zizek, youthful Duncan goalie, was outstanding, while Jones, at right back, and the complete half-back line, played nice football.

R. B. Battie, Ladysmith referee, handled the game, but his work as an arbitrator left much to be desired.

GOAL-DISALLOWED

It was during this early attack that Zizek carried the ball over the goal line in saving Wally Stewart's hard drive, but despite flag-waving by the linesmen, Referee Battie allowed the play to continue without awarding the Jokers a goal.

This was a tough break for the local eleven, and had it been awarded as it certainly should have been, might easily have been the turning point of the game.

Duncan further increased their lead when Davidson found the net following a corner, and then Mickola finished the scoring for the up-Islanders a few minutes later when he headed the ball into an empty net.

JOKERS' LONE MARKER

Staging a belated rally, the Jokers garnered their lone marker and, incidentally, the last score of the game, when Campbell beat Zizek at close range fifteen minutes from time.

Tommy Restall, Jokers' net-minder, injured in early first-half play when he was bumped by Rickinson, a teammate, played good football despite an injured thigh.

Battie refereed.

The teams follow:

Duncan — Zizek, Jones, Weaving, Watson, Hillman, Wilkinson, Mickola, Walton, Preston, Davidson and Hume.

Jokers — Restall, Larry Kennedy, Rickinson, Len Kenner, Speller, Bell, Gelling, Campbell, Smith and Stewart.

BADMINTON CLUB TOURNAMENT CARDED

Horton Smith Wins Masters Tournament

Chicago Professional Paces Outstanding Field in Augusta Golfing Classic With 72-Hole Score of 284; Bobby Jones Is Thirteenth

By ALAN GOULD

Augusta, Ga., March 26.—Picking up where he left off in Georgia four years ago as the last man to whip Bobby Jones in open golf competition, lanky Horton Smith, Chicago, paced the professionals to a smashing triumph over the former world champion yesterday in the final round of the $5,000 masters' invitational tournament.

Smith, leading from start to finish in the four-day battle over the beautiful Augusta National course, rose to the emergency, with his chance at stake, by holing a ten-foot putt on the seventeenth green for a birdie and won the tournament from blond Craig Wood, Deal, N.J., by a one-stroke margin. Smith, with successive rounds of 70-72-70-72, finished four under par with a total of 284, capturing $1,000 first money. Wood tallied 71-74-68-71—285 and collected $800.

PROS DOMINATE

An even dozen professionals, the entire "money list," finished in front of the amateurs, who were nevertheless by scoring another round in even par 72 despite a bad start, and winding up with a total of 284, ten strokes behind the flying Smith. Another leader to fail to land among the prize winners was C. R. "Bandy" Somerville, the former United States and Canadian amateur king from London, Ont., out of competition all winter. "Silent Bandy" took a 77 yesterday to finish with the lofty total of 311 for the seventy-two holes.

The once peerless Jones, in thirteenth place at the finish, had company. He was despatched with Denny Shupe, the pre-war holder of the British open championship, and his old rival and playing partner, Walter Hagen, who started yesterday's round five shots ahead of Bob and lost them all with a shabby 84. Hagen was tied with Jones for the second straight day.

CROWD FOLLOWS JONES

The final round, played in bitter raw weather, was strictly a battle among five front-running professionals, but by far the biggest proportion of the tournament's biggest gallery—upwards of 1,500 fans—followed Jones and Hagen. All hope of a real rally by the Georgian vanished when he three-putted the first green and landed in the ditch on the long fourth as he gambled on getting home with a brassie, only to card a six, but he played magnificent golf from there on.

Jones shot the last fourteen holes in three under par. He had five birdies, including a forty-foot putt for a ducal on the short seventh.

Smith gave a great exhibition of steadiness and self-possession in winning the biggest share of the money. Tied for the lead in the first day with a sub-par 70, he held a one-stroke lead at the end of each succeeding round as he met and turned back the challenges of Bill Burke, Cleveland; Ed Dudley, the home club professional at Craig Wood, who played a too much football, particularly when in close proximity of the opposing goal, while the half-back line, more especially in the initial half, functioned poorly.

THISTLES TAKE LEAD

Twenty minutes from the commencement of the match, the team from the half-line to fullback, and Boyd moved up to the intermediate rank from the fullback position.

GIBBONS STAR IN CUP WIN

Plays Great Game in Thistles' 2 to 1 Soccer Victory Over Esquimalt

Shifted from his usual position at fullback to that of outside left because of an injured left arm, Freddy Gibbons, veteran Saanich Thistles soccer player, stole the spotlight in Saturday afternoon's Province Cup match at the Athletic Park when he netted his team's two goals in their 2 to 1 victory over Esquimalt.

Played under ideal weather conditions and before a large crowd of fans, the match produced some of the best football produced here this season. Saanich Thistles were the slightly more aggressive club, and on the trend of the play were deserving of victory. On the other hand, the Dockers played too much football, particularly when in close proximity of the opposing goal, while the half-back line, more especially in the initial half, functioned poorly.

THISTLES TAKE LEAD

Twenty minutes from the commencement of the match, the team from the half-line to fullback, and Boyd moved up to the intermediate rank from the fullback position.

Second-half play started with Esquimalt going on the attack, but their efforts to tie the score were successfully frustrated by a strong defence on the part of Saanich.

GIBBONS SCORES

Play veered to the opposing end of the field and on a fast breakaway Gibbons outfooted the opposition and, while unmarked, scooped a pass from Glancy, who was substituted for Mail, and scored with a stinging grounder which hit the far upright and bounced into the net behind DeCosta.

ESQUIMALT'S GOAL

Fifteen minutes from time the Dockers netted their only tally of the game when John Watt beat Wally Rowe, Thistles' goalie, with a stinging shot from inside the penalty area.

Thistles returned play to Esquimalt territory from the centre and forced a corner. With the players bunched in the vicinity of his goal, DeCosta made a great save of Joe Crowe's first-time drive following the flag kick by Gibbons.

Breaking fast, the Dockers raced down the field in the dying stages, and John Watt tested Boyd with a bullet drive which he saved in goal style. This was the Dockers' last gallant effort to tie the score, and when it failed they passed out for another year.

Sounding of the final whistle found play around mid-field. Robb refereed.

The teams follow:

Saanich Thistles — Rowe, Easler, Leggett, Williams, Crowe, Viggers, L. Gibbons, Bonde, Mail, Morgan, P. Gibbons, Stoffer and Glancy.

Esquimalt — DeCosta, Joe Watt, Boyd, Pepin, Hay, Sweeney, Bob Stewart, "Sooty" Stewart, John Watt, Barnswell, Wagland and McLean.

the Naval grounds, Admiral's Road, Saturday afternoon.

Having a slight edge in the initial half play, the mainlanders passed up two excellent chances of scoring by being over anxious. Victoria attacked a number of times but could not get by the Vancouver defence.

Victoria secured its first marker when Des Crofton went through on an individual rush and scored. Ten minutes later he repeated this feat. The final goal came five minutes from time with Cliff Hodgson scoring. Percy Fletcher and W. Muncy refereed.

Wheat Prices Off Slightly At Close Of Winnipeg Mart

Winnipeg, March 26.—With Liverpool prices on the upgrade and Chicago showing ease, wheat quotations hovered around dead centre on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day, but a little light selling near the close left the market 1/2 cent off at the finish.

May wheat ended at 67 1/2 with the July delivery at 69 1/2 cents.

Weakness at Chicago more or less took the steam out of favorable sentiment created at the start by the strength at Liverpool. The English market closed with gains of 1/2 to 1 cent.

A Mystery Novel

By K. S. DAIGER

(Copyright by Macrae-Smith Company)

"Let's try it out on that boy," he suggested.

So Sidney was selected as the next patient and rendered unconscious.

What he told made the police sit up and take notice and brought the court stenographers on a run. In the course of the examination, Sidney happened to mention that the car which he had stolen had been designed for use in the Galsworthy murder. Now the police were hot on the trail. They shot question after question at him, the result being that Sidney implicated himself and three other pals as the murderer of Mr. Galsworthy.

It was possible to verify all of these statements, and Sidney and his friends were promptly arrested, tried, and sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime.

This story had made a considerable impression in the underworld, so I had been told, and it was now becoming fashionable for a criminal, if innocent, to clamor long and loudly for the truth serum.

Either Tim Stokes was really innocent or he was counting upon the strength of his will power and mentality to beat the test. However, I doubted the ability of anyone to resist dishonestly to the injection. I had seen it tried out several times; once upon a burglar in Spokane who promptly confessed, and once upon a brother reporter of mine in Denver, who underwent the examination in order to provide himself with first hand material for a feature story.

Consequently I was sure in my own mind that Tim Stokes, if guilty, would confess under the influence of scopalamine. If he stuck to his original story, it would go a long way toward convincing me that the miraculous tale of the tall man in the cellar of the Philadelphia had agreed to come down and take charge.

At the corner of Fayette and Charles Streets, Kirk Judson said good-bye to me. I did my best to persuade him to come along with me, but he protested that he felt too ill for the ordeal. In fact, he did look thoroughly knocked out—as sailow as if he were suffering from jaundice and the hands with which he tried to light a cigarette were shaking with nervousness.

"I've already arranged with one of my men to represent us," he told me again. But it is a very good sign of you to want me, Kay. But I look like a fool, touching the bandage over his eye, and this shiner smarts and throbs like the devil.

"I'll be seeing you again soon, I suppose."

"Oh, by all means. Stokes may tell something which will close the case, but personally I don't think the fellow is going to confess. I haven't any faith in this sort of thing."

A small crowd had already gathered in the tiny room set aside for the demonstration. Dr. Dandy had already arrived and had donned his white apron. Inspector Anderson was there with his arm in a sling, so white and drawn that I was shocked. Hurley and Katz, and the commissioner, several other detectives, and a representative from each of the newspapers and press services. Also two other dignified professional gentlemen, whom I correctly surmised were physicians, interested in seeing an application of the drug. And to my surprise, Randolph Paige, and the lawyer, Robert Cleveland. I watched the two men curiously. Randy regarded the lawyer with little-concealed aversion. But I could see nothing of the jealous husband about him. If there had been any encounter between the two men, as I more than half surmised, they both managed to hide it well.

The centre of the picture was Tim Stokes. He sat on the edge of a single cot which had been set up in the centre of the room. He had removed his coat and vest, collar and tie, and had rolled up his shirt sleeves. The little fellow had had a high and a haircut and a shave and appeared fresh and immaculately clean.

The whole thing struck me as very informal, not your typical operating-room. Dr. Dandy in his white togs and the cot were the only signs that this was not any natural police gathering.

I nodded across the room to the inspector, who smiled wanly. I could see that he was on the verge of collapse at any moment.

A few minutes later Dr. Dandy pulled out his watch.

"See it's now after two," he said to Anderson. "Shall we start?"

I have to see back to Philadelphia this afternoon. Are you ready, Stokes?"

Tim Stokes breathed a deep sigh of relief. Either the gunman was a first rate actor or he was actually innocent and counting upon this demonstration to free him.

"Okay, Doc," he said.

Dr. Dandy stepped forward with a hypodermic needle in his hand. "I'll put it in the arm, Tim," he said. "Now there's nothing to be afraid of. It won't hurt a bit. You may feel slightly nauseated, that's all. After a little while, we're going to ask you some questions. Don't try to think the answers just say anything that happens to occur to you. Don't try to remember anything."

In reply, Tim silently extended his right arm and the doctor inserted the needle. For a few minutes there was dead silence in the room. The rest of us were all standing, pressing curiously around the bed and looking at the patient as if we expected him suddenly to go off in a convulsion.

Then Tim rose to his feet. "I want a drink of water," he said unsteadily. His voice was somewhat thick and he staggered to his feet, but he managed to reach a little table near by and with difficulty to pour himself a glass from a pitcher.

Then he sat down again on the edge of the bed but he dropped his head into his hands.

"He's going," said Dr. Dandy to Anderson. "It won't be long now."

Again he inserted his needle in Tim's arm, and this time he pulled out his watch and gravely counted Tim's pulse.

"That watch looks as big as the house," said Tim hoarsely. And it sounds . . . like . . . an alarm clock. I can see you . . . all, but you seem . . . so far away."

"Come lie down," urged the doctor, gently pushing his head back on the pillow. The gangster lay there for a moment, not at all quiescent, yet far from being himself. Then his eyes closed and he began to breathe in regular deep gasps.

"He's off," said Dr. Dandy. "I think you can begin now."

It had been arranged that Captain of Detective Charles D. Winslow was to conduct the questioning, since Anderson was in no condition to do it himself. Two stenographers, notebooks in hand, drew their chairs up close beside the bed where they could catch every word.

"Make your questions very short," said Dr. Dandy. "If you don't, he will answer the last part and forget to answer the first. Keep them short and very direct."

"What's your name?" asked the Captain.

The answer came without hesitation, yet, although the voice was low and throaty, it was quite clear.

"Timothy James Stokes."

"Where were you born?"

"In New York City."

"Tim, where were you on last Monday night? Can you remember?"

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE ROBIN

(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggly opened the kitchen door of his hollow stump bungalow and looked in. He didn't dare go all the way in. No, not because any of the Bad Chaps were in the kitchen, but because Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzey was there.

Oh, yes, Uncle Wiggly and Nurse Jane were very good friends, but in the morning, when she was doing the housework after the rabbit children had gone to school, the muskrat lady never wanted any one in her kitchen—not even Uncle Wiggly. After the work was done, she'd give them their bath and their teeth cleaned, why then Mr. Longears could pop in and pop out of the kitchen as often as he pleased.

But this time he just peeked in and at once his pink nose began to twinkle. He smiled and asked, through the crack of the door:

"What smells so good, Nurse Jane?"

"I am baking some raisin bread," she answered. "And don't you dare come in here until I finish my work."

She suddenly reached for the broom. Perhaps she was only going to sweep the floor, but Uncle Wiggly thought she might be going to sweep him so he hopped away. But he called back:

"I should like to have some of your raisin bread when it is baked, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzey."

"You shall," answered Nurse Jane. "And don't go away. The bread will soon be baked and I want you to take a loaf to Aunt Lettie; the lady goat. She has a little fever in her horns and Dr. Fossum told her to stay in bed a few days. I'm sure some of my raisin bread will make her better."

"Yes, indeed, Nurse Jane," said Uncle Wiggly. "Your raisin bread ought to cure anybody. I'll be hopping out to look for an adventure very soon and I'll take the bread with me and leave it at Aunt Lettie's house."

"I'll call you in about five minutes," said the muskrat lady.

While waiting, Uncle Wiggly thought he would sing a song. So he sat down on the stairs in the hall and began. All of a sudden his wife, who was making the beds upstairs, called down:

"Who is there? What's the matter?"

"It is I, my love, singing a song," said the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, I thought some one was crying," said Mrs. Longears, and she went on making the beds. After that Uncle Wiggly thought he had best not sing any more, so he just sat and waited.

Soon the loaf of raisin bread was baked. Nurse Jane took it from the oven, wrapped it in a clean towel and gave it to Uncle Wiggly. Outside his bungalow the rabbit gentleman thought he might take a chance and hum a bit of a song, which he did as he hopped along on his way to find an adventure and give Aunt Lettie the bread.

All of a sudden, as the rabbit gentleman was passing an old house, he heard from within a voice saying:

"Oh, dear! I wish it would get warm! This is a very cold spring. My wife and I cannot build our nest and start housekeeping until the weather is warmer. Oh, dear!"

"Hail! Some one in trouble!" said Uncle Wiggly to himself. "I must see if I can help." The rabbit gentleman always was that way. So he hopped to the barn and there he saw a big Robin Redbreast bird with a big lump on its head.

"What is the matter with you, Mr. Robin?" asked the rabbit.

"Oh, it's this cold weather!" was the answer. "I know it is very early in the spring, but my wife and I flew up from the warm Southland, where we spent the winter, and we came here in the Northland for the summer, as we always do. But it is so cold and it looks so much like snow that we are sorry we came."

"Indeed we are, Rob," said the lady bird, coming out from beneath a straw. "But we must be brave. We must not give up. It must get warmer soon, and then you shall help me build the nest. I'll lay the eggs, we shall hatch out our little birds and then how happy we shall be, my dear. Think of that."

"I do think of it, my love," said Mr. Robin. "But while we are waiting for warm weather we may starve. I have found nothing to eat all day. I am hungry and I fear you are, too."

"Yes," said the lady robin. "I am."

"Well," said Uncle Wiggly, with a jolly laugh. "I can soon fix that part of it." And how he did and what happened I shall tell you to-morrow night in the story Uncle Wiggly feeds the birds. But please don't let the teapot make faces at the coffee pot because of its short, stubby little nose. The coffee pot can't help it.
